

Sub Title : UNIX AND SHELL PROGRAMMING LAB*Sub Code: ISL37*No of Credits : 0:0:1.0*No of lecture hours/week : 02*Exam Duration : 3 hours*Exam Marks : 50*Course Objectives:

- Understand and simulate the different types of unix command related to file, protection and security.
- Develop shell programs using command substitution, positional parameters and control structures
- Implementation of SED and AWK
- Develop simple programs using PERL programming

1. a) Develop a Non-recursive shell script that accepts any number of arguments and prints them in the Reverse order. (For example, if the script named rags, then executing rags A B C should produce C B A on standard output).

b) Write a shell script that accepts two file names as command line arguments, checks if the permissions for these files are identical and output common permissions, otherwise outputs each file name followed by its permissions

2. a) Design a shell script that takes a valid directory name as a command line argument and recursively descends all the sub directories, finds the maximum length of any file in that hierarchy and writes this maximum value to the standard output

b) Develop a shell script which accepts valid login names as command line arguments and prints their corresponding home directories. If no arguments are specified, prints suitable error message.

3. a) Design shell script to implement terminal locking. It should prompt the user for a password. After accepting the password entered by the user, it must prompt again for the matching password as confirmation. The script must be written to discard break, Ctrl-D etc.

b) Develop a Shell script that accepts file names specified as arguments and creates a shell script that contains these files as well as the code to recreate these files, thus if the script generated by your script is executed it would recreate the original files

4. a) Using arrays develop a shell script to sort 'N' numbers using bubble sort.

b) Design script to find out whether a given string is palindrome or not.

5. a) Write shell script to generate prime numbers between given two limits.

b) Design an awk program which will print the contents of the file /etc/passwd in the reverse order.

6. a) Write an awk script to delete duplicated lines from a text file. The order of the original file must remain unchanged.

b) Create an awk program which prints the alternate like 2nd, 4th, 6th, from the file /etc/passwd.

7. a) Write a shell script that finds and displays all the links to a file specified as the first argument to the script. The second argument which is optional can be used to specify the directory in which the search is

Usp Lab Manual:

Laboratory Manual of Pharmaceutics Dr. Remeth J. Dias, Dr. Kailas Mali, Mr. Vijay D. Havaladar, Dr. Vishwajeet S. Ghorpade, 2023-09-28 We are very pleased to put forth the revised edition of Laboratory Manual of Pharmaceutics. We have incorporated all the suggestions modified it to make it easier student friendly and relevant in terms of achieving curriculum outcome. We are very much thankful to all the learned teachers who have given their feedback whole heartedly. We have even incorporated the changes in this manual based on the feedback given by the teachers from all the institutes. Now we believe that the manual has been fulfilling the aspirations of pharmaceutics teachers and students too. This manual is prepared as per PCI Education Regulations 2020 for Diploma Course in Pharmacy. The procedures and formulas of all the experiments are reviewed and added so that the advancement in the methods or apparatus can be addressed. This manual is designed for outcome based education and each experiment is arranged in a uniform way such as practical significance, practical outcomes, PrOs and its mapping with course outcomes, minimum theoretical background, resources used, procedure, precautions, observations, result, conclusion, references and related questions. We have also given the readings for the reference of students and better understanding. Moreover, assessment scheme is also given to help the student and teacher to know what to be assessed. A sincere attempt has been made through this manual to provide practical knowledge to the students related to various topics of Pharmaceutics. The manual mainly includes the experiments through which the students will learn to prepare conventional dosage forms and few cosmetic formulations in the laboratory. Besides experiments related to handling of Indian Pharmacopoeia and National Formulary of India will make the students familiar with the Indian official compendiums. The demonstration based experiments will help the students to understand the tablet compression process and quality control test of tablets, capsules, emulsions and single dose parenteral preparations. A brief introduction to various dosage forms before the related experiments can assist in better perception of the experiment. Each experiment is divided into sections like aim, practical significance, relevant professional competencies, relevant course outcomes, practical skills, relevant affective domain, related outcomes, practical outcomes, minimum theoretical background, requirements, contents, marketed preparations, related questions, references and assessment scheme. The manual has been designed with more emphasis on the practical skill improvement of the students so that the students can perform the practical with ease and comfort. Hope this manual will help the students to learn the concept, principles and perform the experiments virtually. We wish you all the best.

Laboratory Manual of Herbal Drug Technology Mr. Vijay D. Havaladar, Dr. Kailas Mali, Dr. Senha Jagtap, Dr. Vilas N. Deshmukh, 2024-02-16

We are very pleased to put forth the Herbal Drug Technology. This manual is prepared as per PCI B Pharm course regulations 2014 and is divided into six sections, i.e. Preliminary phytochemical screening, Determination of alcohol contents in Ayurvedic formulations, Evaluation of natural origin excipients, Preparation and evaluation of herbal formulations, Monograph analysis of herbal drugs from recent Pharmacopoeias, and Determination of chemical constituent contents. The various techniques are used for phytochemical screening of aqueous extract of crude drugs and determination of chemical constituents' contents in crude drugs. The manual includes experiments through which students learn to prepare and evaluate various herbal formulations and analyze the individual monographs from recent pharmacopoeias. This manual is designed for outcome-based education, and each experiment is arranged in a uniform way, such as practical significance, practical outcomes, PrOs, and its mapping with course outcomes, theory resources used, procedure, precautions, observations, result, conclusion, references, and synopsis questions. Each experiment offers an opportunity to perform practical work, allowing students to gain proficiency in effectively managing equipment, handling glassware, chemicals, and staining agents, reagents, and writing conclusions. In addition, questions are provided at the end of the experiments to enhance students' knowledge, which will be beneficial for them as they pursue higher studies. During the laboratory period, you will have to multitask while you are doing an experiment. It is essential to document properly what you do and what you observe while doing the practical. Always plan your work ahead and think about what you are doing, why you are doing it, what is happening, and what you can conclude from your experiment. We acknowledge the help and co-operation extended by various persons in bringing out this manual. We are highly indebted to the authors of various books and articles mentioned in the reference, which became a major source of information for writing this manual We also thank the publishers designers and printers who graciously worked hard to publish this manual in time We hope that this manual will assist students in understanding concepts principles and performing procedures We wish you all the best
