Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress. Cataloging Policy and Support Office, 2006 Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, Library of Congress. Office for Subject Cataloging Policy, 2003 Torch of Freedom David Weber, Eric Flint, 2009-11-01 Someone is assassinating the leaders of both the Star Kingdom of Manticore and the recently liberated former slave planet of Torch. Though most believe the Republic of Haven is behind the murders, Anton Zilwicki and Havenite secret agent Victor Cachat believe there is another sinister player behind the scenes. Queen Berry of Torch narrowly escaped one assassination attempt and a security officer from Beowulf has been assigned to protect her, a task complicated by the young monarch's resentment of bodyguards and the officer's growing attachment to her. Meanwhile, powerful forces in the Solarian League are maneuvering against each other to gain the upper hand, not realizing or perhaps not caring that their power struggle is threatening the League's very existence and could plunge the galaxy into war. Once again, New York Times best-selling authors David Weber and Eric Flint join forces in an exciting new novel in the Honorverse. At the publisher's request, this title is sold without DRM (Digital Rights Management). Naval Warfare 1919-45 Malcolm H. Murfett, 2008-11-04 Naval Warfare 1919-45 is a comprehensive history of the war at sea from the end of the Great War to the end of World War Two. Showing the bewildering nature and complexity of the war facing those charged with fighting it around the world, this book ranges far and wide, sweeping across all naval theatres and those powers performing major as well as minor roles within them. Armed with the latest material from an extensive set of sources, Malcolm H. Murfett has written an absorbing as well as a comprehensive reference work. He demonstrates that superior equipment and the best intelligence, ominous power and systematic planning, vast finance and suitable training are often simply not enough in themselves to guarantee the successful outcome of a particular encounter at sea. Sometimes the narrow difference between victory and defeat hinges on those infinite variables: the individual's performance under acute pressure and sheer luck. Naval Warfare 1919-45 is an analytical and interpretive study which is an accessible and fascinating read both for students and for interested members of the general public. Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress. Office for Subject Cataloging Policy, 1992 Library of Congress Subject Headings: P-Z Library of Congress. Subject Cataloging Division, 1988 Carrying the War to the Enemy Michael R. Matheny, 2012-10-09 Military commanders turn tactics into strategic victory by means of operational art: the knowledge and creative imagination commanders and staff employ in designing, synchronizing and conducting battles and major operations to achieve strategic goals. Until now, historians of military theory have generally agreed that modern operational art developed between the first and second world wars, not in the United States but in Germany and the Soviet Union, whose armies were supposedly the innovators and greatest practitioners of operational art. Some have even claimed that U.S. forces struggled in World War II because their commanders had no systematic understanding of operational art. Michael R. Matheny believes previous studies have not appreciated the evolution of U S military thinking at the operational level Although they may rightly point to the U S Army s failure to modernize or develop a sophisticated combined arms doctrine during the interwar years they focus too much on technology or tactical doctrine In his revealing account Matheny shows that it was at the operational level particularly in mounting joint and combined operations that senior American commanders excelled and laid a foundation for their country s victory in World War II Matheny draws on archival materials from military educational institutions planning documents and operational records of World War II campaigns Examining in detail the development of American operational art as land sea and air power matured in the twentieth century he shows that contrary to conventional wisdom U S war colleges educated and trained commanders during the interwar years specifically for the operational art they employed in World War II After 1945 in the face of nuclear warfare the American military largely abandoned operational art But since the Vietnam War U S commanders have found operational art increasingly important as they pursue modern global and expeditionary warfare requiring coordination among multiple service branches and the forces of allied countries Welding Engineer ,1962

Operation 'Torch' North Africa Jean Paul Pallud,2019-06-30 When the western Allies decided to launch a second front in North Africa they carefully considered the anti British feeling left in France by the ill advised attack by the Royal Navy on the French Fleet at Mers el K bir in July 1940 Consequently the operation was given an American rather than a British complexion General Eisenhower was chosen to lead a mostly American force into battle and the major Royal Navy contribution was kept as inconspicuous as possible This operation marked the first time that American troops fought against German forces during the Second World War They had a rough baptism of fire in southern Tunisia in February 1943 training equipment and leadership failed in many instances to meet the requirements of the battlefield but the US Army was quick to learn and revise army doctrines particularly with respect to the use of armor The successful campaign created thousands of seasoned soldiers of all ranks whose experience would prove decisive in subsequent campaigns The next test was only two months away the invasion of Sicily In addition Operation Torch brought the French army back into the war Most important of all the Allies had seized the initiative in the West Pacific Purchasor ,1956 Bibliography of Scientific and Industrial Reports ,1947 Western Industry and Western Industrial Guide ,1958 Canadian Blacksmith Gas Welder and Automotive Repairman ,1943 The Army Air Forces in World War II: Europe, torch to pointblank, August 1942 to December 1943 ,1948 Role Of The Office Of Strategic Services In Operation Torch Major Thomas W. Dorrel Jr.,2015-11-06 This thesis evaluates the role of Allied strategic and operational intelligence in conjunction with Department of State actions in French North Africa from 1940 through the invasion Operation TORCH November 8 1942 The primary focus is to evaluate whether or not the OSS collected the required intelligence information as their accounts have stated This paper also looks at the operational requirements of advance force operations to determine if the OSS was successful in accomplishing the required tasks for the operational planning and execution of Operation TORCH The final analysis reveals that the OSS was successful in answering most of the information requirements but only with the help of other Allied intelligence collection agencies School Shop ,1969 Construction Methods and Equipment ,1951 Fusion Facts ,1929 Canadian Metalworking ,1962 Western Machinery and Steel World ... ,1962
