For a Living Nicholas Coles, Peter Oresick, 1995 In this companion volume to their anthology Working Classics Nicholas Coles and Peter Oresick present poems written in the 1980s and 1990s that address the nature and culture of nonindustrial work white collar domestic clerical technical managerial or professional They cross lines of status class and gender and range from mopping floors to television news reporting Wall Street brokerage and raising children Arithmetic of Surrender Tana Runyan, 2007 In the first collection of poetry from Tanya Runyan scenes of remembrance expose the landscape of family life Each poem is a sacrificial canvas depicting a persistent and influential moment in the life of a young daughter as she grows up to be a sister lover poet wife and mother who pleads forgiveness from her parents now that they in accordance with the world s pulse are preparing to die New Working-Class Studies John Russo, Sherry Lee Linkon, 2018-08-06 We put the working class in all its varieties at the center of our work The new working class studies is not only about the labor movement or about workers of any particular kind or workers in any particular place even in the workplace Instead we ask questions about how class works for people at work at home and in the community We explore how class both unites and divides working class people which highlights the importance of understanding how class shapes and is shaped by race gender ethnicity and place We reflect on the common interests as well as the divisions between the most commonly imagined version of the working class industrial blue collar workers and workers in the new economy whose work and personal lives seem at first glance to place them solidly in the middle class from the Introduction In John Russo and Sherry Lee Linkon s book contributors trace the origins of the new working class studies explore how it is being developed both within and across fields and identify key themes and issues Historians economists geographers sociologists and scholars of literature and cultural studies introduce many and varied aspects of this emerging field Throughout they consider how the study of working class life transforms traditional disciplines and stress the importance of popular and artistic representations of working class life History, Literature and the Writing of the Canadian Prairies Alison Calder,Robert

Wardhaugh,2005-05-16 The Canadian Prairie has long been represented as a timeless and unchanging location defined by settlement and landscape Now a new generation of writers and historians challenge that perception and argue instead that it is a region with an evolving culture and history In a collection of ten essays History Literature and the Writing of the Canadian Prairies explores a more contemporary prairie identity and reconfigures the prairie as a construct that is non linear and diverse responding to the impact of geographical historical and political currents These writers explore the connections between document and imagination between history and culture and between geography and time The subjects of the essays range widely the non linear structure of Carol Shield s The Stone Diaries the impact of Aberhart s Social Credit Marshall McLuhan and Mesopotamian myth on Robert Kroetsch s prairie postmodernism the role of document in long prairie poems the connection between cultural tourism and heritage the theme of regeneration in Margaret Laurence s Manawaka writing the influence of imagination on geography in Thomas Wharton s Icefields and the effects on an alpine climber of pre WWII ideological concepts of time and individualism Poets Talk Pauline Butling,Susan Rudy,2005-01-15 This is a book that takes on the hard questions about the role of poets in society together with the challenges of reading difficult poetry Using the relaxed format of the personal interview Butling and Rudy open doors to some of the most challenging and important poetry of the 1990s Robert Kroetsch talks about his dread of systems and his subversive use of sub literary forms Erin Mour and Daphne Marlatt discuss the feminist trajectories in their work how to jump circuits and activate alternative networks Dionne Brand links her poetics to Marxist politics and Pan African liberation movements Annharte explains her use of humour to de program Native people Jeff Derksen wants to disarticulate and rearticulate linguistic and social systems while Fred Wah emphasizes the role of poetry in changing how we see the world Hating Gladys Leona Gom,2002 Gladys Pratt was in control the mistress of her own domain In the sixties she and her husband were running a lodge in a remote area of the Yukon Communication to the outside world was by mail if it got out Gladys was a tyrant Deeply unhappy in her own life she made life miserable for everyone around her her house keeper her cooks and the young women who worked as her waitresses during the summer months Kendy and Elke were two of them fresh out of high school and heading to university they anticipated earning enough money to pay their first semester's tuition Elke was shy and timid new at waitressing and often the butt of Gladys's wrath But Kendy was more confident and found the courage to stand up to Gladys and for that Gladys's punishment was devastating Flash forward Vancouver 2000 Kendy is a successful entrepreneur and Elke a university professor One summer day Elke spots Gladys on the bus She's shocked at seeing Gladys and struggles with the fierce emotions that threaten to engulf her Elke seeks out Kendy neither has forgotten their Yukon summer Kendy thirsts for revenge and draws the reluctant Elke into a plan Hating Gladys is a story of conflicting emotions told from both Elke's and Gladys's points of view Their disparate voices weave a story of wit and irony humour and anguish Gom explores the damaged lives of younger and older women learning to deal with bitterness and betrayal the destructive impulses of a dangerous hatred and the treacherous but remedial ways of understanding and forgiveness The Antigoniish Review, 1981 In Visible Ink Aritha Van Herk, 1991 Aritha van Herk explores other texts other bodies other moments arising from the otheredness of the writer in the uneasy position of critic Strings Paul B.
