Migrant Anxieties Aine O’Healy, 2019-01-24 During a period of heightened global concerns about the movement of immigrants and refugees across borders Migrant Anxieties explores how filmmakers in Italy have probed the tensions accompanying the country’s shift from an emigrant nation to a destination point for over five million immigrants over the course of three decades. In O’Healy traces a phenomenology of anxiety that is not only present at the sociopolitical level but also interwoven into the narrative strategies of over 30 films produced since 1990 throwing into sharp relief the interface between the local and the global in this transnational era. Starting with the representation of post communist migrations to Italy from Eastern Europe and subsequent arrivals from Africa through the controversial frontier of Lampedusa O’Healy explores topics as diverse as the configuration of migrant labor affective surrogacy Italian whiteness and the legacy of Italy’s colonial history. Showing how contemporary filmmaking practices in Italy are linked to changes in the broader media landscape O’Healy analyzes the ways in which both Italian and migrant filmmakers are reimagining Italian society and remapping the nation’s borderscape. Korean Culture, 1998 Educational Perspectives, 2009 Therapeutic Jurisprudence Applied Bruce J. Over five parts it sets out an overview of the themes and problems, explores theoretical justifications and challenges in understanding data, considers data through the perspective of cognate private law doctrines, assesses the contribution of private law in understanding individual rights and finally examines the potential of private law in providing individual remedies for wrongful data use, supplementing the work of regulators.
