Resources in Education ,1995-10 The Economic Institute Guide to Graduate Study in Economics and Agricultural Economics in the United States of America and Canada ,1995 International Economics Peter H. Lindert,1991 This classic text has remained a market leader for over 30 years because it covers all the conventional areas of international economics in an easy to understand manner The 11th edition has been thoroughly revised and it continues to be accessible flexible and interesting to economics and business majors alike Like earlier editions it also places international economics events within an historical framework The overall treatment continues to be intuitive rather than mathematical and is strongly oriented towards policy Peter Lindert was recently awarded the University of California Davis Prize for Undergraduate Teaching and Scholarly Achievement Nuclear Science Abstracts ,1971 The Rhetoric of Remediation Jane Stanley,2010-01-31 American universities have long professed dismay at the writing proficiency levels of entrants and the volume of this complaint has been directly correlated to social political or economic currents Many universities in their rhetoric have defined high need for remediation as a crisis point in order to garner state funding or to manage admissions In The Rhetoric of Remediation Jane Stanley examines the statements and actions made regarding remediation at the University of California Berkeley Cal Since its inception in 1868 university rhetoric has served to negotiate the tensions between an ethic of access and the assertion of elite status Great care has been taken to promote the politics of public accessibility yet in its competition for standing among other institutions Cal has been publicly critical of the underpreparedness of many entrants Early on Cal developed programs to teach Subject A Composition to the vast number of students who lacked basic writing skills Stanley documents the evolution of the university s rhetoric of remediation at key moments in its history such as the early years of open gate admissions the economic panic of the late 1800s and its effect on enrollment Depression era battles over funding and the creation of a rival system of regional state colleges the GI Bill and ensuing post WWII glut in enrollments the Red Scare and its attacks on faculty administrators and students the Civil Rights Movement and the resultant changes to campus politics sexist admission policies and a de facto male quota system accusations of racism in the instruction of Asian Americans during the 1970s the effects of an increasing number of students beginning in the 1980s for whom English was a second language and the recent development of the College Writing Program which combined freshmen composition with Subject A instruction in an effort to remove the concept of remediation altogether Setting her discussion within the framework of American higher education Stanley finds that the rhetorical phenomenon of embrace and disgrace is not unique to Cal and her study encourages compositionists to evaluate their own institutional practices and rhetoric of remediation for the benefit of both students and educators Government-wide Index to Federal Research & Development Reports ,1966-10-10 Guide to Graduate Studies in Great Britain Jenny Knight,1974 Energy Research Abstracts ,1980 Proceedings of the Second International Conference on Emerging Trends in
