In Hard Times Manoj Joshi, Nishtha Gautam, Praveen Swami, 2022-11-28 Since the mid 1990s Indian thinking on national security has been based on the assumption that the country would progress on a growth trajectory sufficient to modernise its defence capacities and thereby enable some form of parity with a rising China The reality has been otherwise China's spectacular growth and accompanying military modernisation has hugely outpaced that of India while the Indian military modernisation has moved fitfully In the past several years budgets have committed less than 2 per cent of GDP the lowest levels since the war of 1962 for the military Even if spending were to rise to 3 per cent little funding would be available for modernisation after allowing for rising pensions salaries and other components of the budget Put simply the authors state India needs a national security strategy for hard times It would be a strategy grounded in reality India's priority has to be the raising of vast numbers of its people out of abject poverty even if the strategies of countries like China and the United States economically more developed can aim at being global powers In Hard Times is an important collection that highlights the major challenges India confronts and the ways they can be tackled especially in the light of the upheavals caused by the COVID 19 pandemic Its contributors include former military officers including Admiral Arun Prakash and Lt Gen D S Hooda whose views have helped shape discussions on strategy as well as commentators such as Dr Sanjaya Baru Experience tells us that in war it's often the smarter side that wins not the stronger one These essays point us in that direction

Aging Veterans with Disabilities Arie Rimmerman, 2020-10-15 The number of older war veterans receiving disability benefits is steadily growing and is predicted to rise in the next decade This book provides comprehensive knowledge about health and psychosocial concerns of veterans aging with disabilities and unmet needs and compares policy in three countries that have been involved in massive warfare in the 20th century the United Kingdom UK the United States US and Israel Using a cross national comparative study of the policies legislation and services provided by these three countries which have significant numbers of aging disabled military veterans this book provides evidence based knowledge on the trajectories and attendant mental health and psychosocial problems this sub group faces when aging with a disability It sheds light on the paradox in which most veterans with disabilities in the UK USA and Israel are older while the current legislation and budget target younger veterans with disabilities The book reflects the current debate regarding the desired policy toward older veterans with disabilities in these countries and whether to provide them with proactive health services prior to retirement to prevent accelerated aging It also evaluates the dilemma of whether to serve aging veterans separately as a unique population or to provide them with the same services used by the general population This book will be of interest to all academics and students working in disability studies rehabilitation studies gerontology psychology sociology social work social policy and law more broadly
