Aegean-Style Pottery from Early Iron Age Tell Tayinat* Brian Janeway, 2018-07-17 Did an invasion of the Sea

Peoples cause the collapse of the Late Bronze Age palace based economies of the Levant as well as of the Hittite Empire. Renewed excavations at Tell Tayinat in southeast Turkey are shedding new light on the critical transitional phase of the Late Bronze Early Iron Age ca 1200-1000 B.C., a period that in the Northern Levant has until recently been considered a Dark Age due in large part to the few extant textual sources relating to its history. However, recently discovered epigraphic data from both the site and the surrounding region suggest the formation of an Early Iron Age kingdom that fused Hieroglyphic Luwian monumental script with a strong component of Aegeanizing cultural elements. The capital of this putative erstwhile kingdom appears to have been located at Tell Tayinat in the Amuq Valley. More specifically, this formal stylistic analysis examines a distinctive painted pottery known as Late Helladic IIIC found at the site of Tayinat during several seasons of excavation. The assemblage includes examples of Aegean style bowls, kraters, and amphorae bearing an array of distinctive decorative features. A key objective of the study distinguishes Aegean stylistic characteristics both in form and in painted motifs from those inspired by the indigenous culture. Drawing on a wide range of parallels from Philistia through the Levant, Anatolia, the Aegean Sea, the Greek Mainland, and Cyprus, this research begins to fill a longstanding lacuna in the Amuq Valley and attempts to correlate with major historical and cultural trends in the Northern Levant and beyond. In Sea Peoples of the Northern Levant, Janeway ably navigates the complex context within which these data must be historically and archaeologically situated and provides a first look at the Aegeanizing ceramics from the Tell Tayinat assemblage that is both comprehensive and invaluable. For researchers and scholars working within the complex material and historical tapestry of the Late Bronze Early Iron Age transition in the eastern Mediterranean, this volume is highly recommended. Jeffrey P. Emanuel, Harvard University, in American Journal of Archaeology 123:3, 2019.

Disorientation John Zmirak, 2014-06-26 They're leaving home will they leave the faith? Every year thousands of young Catholics leave their homes for higher education at our nation's colleges and universities. Very few realize however that from orientation day onward they will be indoctrinated with a vision of reality that is very different from the values their families hold dear. Sadly many of our young people will fall prey to one or more of the dominant ideologies engrained in their college education ideologies that can lead them away from the Church and ultimately their faith in God. Students who are not taught how to think critically or who lack the tools needed to sift through the logic of these positions are easily swayed by the smooth sophistry of the intellectual elite. For this reason twelve of the top Catholic writers in America professors priests journalists philosophers and theologians have come together to dissect the trendy ideas that can lead young Catholics away from the Church. Disorientation is intellectual ammunition for every college student and parent as it breaks down the history analyzes the appeal and debunks the empty promises of such wildly popular errors as Hedonism Relativism Progressivism Modernism Scientism Fundamentalism Radical Feminism Multiculturalism and more. Edited by John Zmirak author The Bad Catholic's Guide to Good Living and editor of Choosing the Right College this book is guaranteed to get college students thinking hard about what their professors are telling them and what they should really believe.
