Management and Evaluation Steven de Haes, 2014 Essays in Economic and Business History, 2015 The SAGE Handbook of Personality and Individual Differences Virgil Zeigler-Hill, Todd K. Shackelford, 2021-08-04

The examination of personality and individual differences is a major field of research in the modern discipline of psychology. Concerned with the ways humans develop an organised set of characteristics to shape themselves and the world around them, it is a study of how people come to be different and similar to others on both an individual and a cultural level. The SAGE Handbook of Personality and Individual Difference is the broadest and most comprehensive overview of the field to date. With outstanding contributions from leading scholars across the world, this is an invaluable resource for researchers and graduate students. Its three volumes cover all of the central concepts, domains and debates of this globally expanding discipline, including the core theoretical perspectives, research strategies as well as the origins, applications and measurement of personality and individual difference.

The Wild East Barbara Harriss-White, Lucia Michelutti, 2019-09-23

The Wild East bridges political economy and anthropology to examine a variety of illegal economic sectors and businesses such as red sanders, coal, fire oil, sand, air, spectrum, land, water, real estate, procurement and industrial labour. The 11 case studies based across India, Pakistan and Bangladesh explore how state regulative law is often ignored and/or selectively manipulated. The emerging collective narrative shows the workings of regulated criminal economic systems where criminal formations, politicians, police, judges and bureaucrats are deeply intertwined. By pioneering the field study of the politicisation of economic crime and disrupting the wider literature on South Asia's informal economy, The Wild East aims to influence future research agendas through its case for the study of mafia enterprises and their engagement with governance in South Asia and outside. Its empirical and theoretical contribution to debates about economic crimes in democratic regimes will be of critical value to researchers in Economics, Anthropology, Sociology, Comparative Politics, Political Science and International Relations, Criminologists and Development Studies as well as to those inside and outside academia interested in current affairs and the relationship between crime, politics and mafia enterprises.

Building Knowledge in Higher Education Christine Winberg, Sioux McKenna, Kirstin Wilmot, 2020-05-27

From pressures to become economically efficient to calls to act as an agent of progressive social change, higher education is facing a series of challenges. There is an urgent need for a rigorous and sophisticated research base to support the informed development of practices. Yet studies of educational practices in higher education remain theoretically underdeveloped and segmented by discipline and country. Building Knowledge in Higher Education illustrates how Legitimation Code Theory is bringing research together from across the disciplinary map and enabling practical change in a rigorously theorized way. The volume addresses both students and educators. Part I explores ways of supporting student achievement from STEM to the arts, from introductory courses to doctoral training and from using new digital media to reflective writing. Part II focuses on academic staff development in higher education, reaching from curriculum design to pedagogic practices. All chapters focus on issues of contemporary relevance to higher education.

showing how Legitimation Code Theory enables these issues to be understood and practices improved Building Knowledge in Higher Education brings together internationally renowned scholars in higher education studies academic development academic literacies and sociology with some of the brightest new researchers The volume significantly extends understandings of teaching and learning in changing higher education contexts and so contributes to educational research and practice It will be essential reading not only to scholars and students in these fields but also to scholars and educators in higher education more generally From Breakthrough to Blockbuster Donald L. Drakeman, Lisa N.
