Postsecular Cities Religious Space Theory And Practice:

Postsecular Cities Justin Beaumont, Christopher Baker, 2011-06-16 This book reflects the wide spread belief that the twenty first century is evolving in a significantly different way to the twentieth which witnessed the advance of human rationality and technological progress including urbanisation and called into question the public and cultural significance of religion In this century by contrast religion faith communities and spiritual values have returned to the centre of public life especially public policy governance and social identity Rapidly diversifying urban locations are the best places to witness the emergence of new spaces in which religions and spiritual traditions are creating both new alliances but also bifurcations with secular sectors Postsecular Cities examines how the built environment reflects these trends Recognizing that the turn to the postsecular is a contested and multifaceted trend the authors offer a vigorous open but structured dialogue between theory and practice but even more excitingly between the disciplines of human geography and theology Both disciplines reflect on this powerful but enigmatic force shaping our urban humanity This unique volume offers the first insight into these interdisciplinary and challenging debates

Religion, Violence and Cities Liam O'Dowd, Martina McKnight, 2016-04-14 In exploring the connections between religion violence and cities the book probes the extent to which religion moderates or exacerbates violence in an increasingly urbanised world Originating in a five year research project Conflict in Cities and the Contested State concerned with Belfast Jerusalem and other ethno nationally divided cities this volume widens the geographical focus to include diverse cities from the Balkans the Middle East Nigeria and Japan In addressing the understudied triangular relationships between religion violence and cities contributors stress the multiple forms taken by religion and violence while challenging the compartmentalisation of two highly topical debates links between religion and violence on the one hand and the proliferation of violent urban conflicts on the other hand Their research demonstrates why cities have become so important in conflicts driven by state building fundamentalism religious nationalism and ethno religious division and illuminates the conditions under which urban environments can fuel violent conflicts while simultaneously providing opportunities for managing or transforming them This book was published as a special issue of Space and Polity Transnational Religious Spaces O. Hunt, 2019-11-26 The megachurch is an exceptional recent religious trend certainly within Christian spheres Spreading from the USA megachurches now reached reach different global contexts The edited volume Handbook of Megachurches offers a comprehensive account of the subject from various academic perspectives Religion, Heritage and the Sustainable City Yamini Narayanan, 2014-10-10 The speed and scale of urbanisation in India is unprecedented almost anywhere in the world and has tremendous global implications The religious influence on the urban experience has resonances for all aspects of urban sustainability in India and yet it remains a blind spot while articulating sustainable urban policy This book explores the historical and on going influence of religion on urban planning design space utilisation urban identities and communities It argues that the conceptual and empirical approaches to planning sustainable cities in India need to be developed out of analytical concepts that define local sense of place and identity Examining how Hindu religious heritage beliefs and religiously influenced planning practices have impacted on sustainable urbanisation development in Jaipur and Indian cities in general the book identifies the challenges and opportunities that ritualistic and belief resources pose for sustainability It focuses on three key aspects spatial segregation and ghettoisation gender inclusive urban development and the nexus between religion nature and urban development This cutting edge book is one of the first case studies linking Hindu religion heritage urban development women and the environment in a way that responds to the realities of Indian cities It opens up discussion on the nexus of religion and development drawing out insightful policy implications for the sustainable urban planning of many cities in India and elsewhere in South Asia and the developing world Rescripting Religion in the City Alana Harris, 2016-04-22

Rescripting Religion in the City explores the role of faith and religious practices as strategies for understanding and negotiating the migratory experience Leading international scholars draw on case studies of urban settings in the global north and south Presenting a nuanced understanding of the religious identities of migrants within the modern metropolis this book makes a significant contribution to fields as diverse as twentieth century immigration history the sociology of religion and migration studies as well as historical and urban geography and practical theology Just faith Stephan de Beer, 2018-12-01 The purpose of this scholarly book is to expand the body of knowledge available on urban theology It introduces readers to the concept of planetary urbanisation with the view of deepening an understanding of urbanisation and its all pervasive impact on the planet people and places from a theological perspective A critical theological reading of the urban is also provided deliberating on bridging the divide between voices from the Global South and the Global North In doing so this book simultaneously seeks out robust and dynamic faith constructs expressed in various forms and embodiments of justice The methodology chosen transcended narrow disciplinary boundaries situating reflections between and across disciplines in the interface between scholarly reflection and an activist faith as well as between local rootedness and global connectedness This was facilitated by the collected gathering of authors spanning all continents various Christian faith traditions and multiple disciplines as well as a range of methodological approaches The book endeavours to contribute to knowledge production in a number of ways Firstly it suggests the inadequacy of most dominant faith expressions in the face of all pervasive forces of urbanisation and it also provides clues as to the possibility of fostering potent alternative imaginaries Secondly it explores a decolonial faith that is expressed in various forms of justice It is an attempt to offer concrete embodiments of what such a faith could look like in the context of planetary urbanisation Thirdly the book does not focus on one specific urban challenge or mode of ministry but rather introduces the concept of planetary urbanisation and then offers critical lenses with which to interrogate its consequences and challenges It considers concrete and liberating faith constructs in areas ranging from gender race economic inequality a solidarity economics and housing to urban violence indigeneity and urbanisation the interface between economic and environmental sustainability and grass roots theological education

Multiple Modernities and Postsecular Societies Kristina Stoeckl, 2016-04-15 Engaging with the idea that the world reveals not one but many routes to modernity this volume explores the role of religion in the emergence of multiple forms of modernity which evolve according to specific cultural conditions and interpretations of the modern project It draws upon case study material from Africa The Middle East Russia and South America to examine the question of whether modernity democracy and secularism are universalistic concepts or are on the contrary unique to Western civilization whilst considering the relationship of postsecularism to the varied paths of modern development Drawing together work from leading social theorists this critical theoretical contribution to current debates will appeal to sociologists social theorists and political scientists with interests in religion secularization and postsecularization theory and transitions to modernity in the contemporary globalized world

Sociology in Times of Glocalization Christian Karner, 2022-11-08 Seminal sociological work has described the world today as a local global nexus that is defined by localized often conflictual responses to a series of global flows Building on this this book traces the workings and dynamics of today's globalization and of the different reactions it spurs across a range of social domains that is in localities affected by rapid infrastructural change in the economic realm and through consumerism in experiences of migration in urban settings in cultural practices such as street art that negotiate both global and local events and phenomena and in digital technology Crucially the book formulates and critically explores the methodological challenges created by such social and political developments Rather than treating the fundamental question as to how and why sociologists can claim to know more about the social world than the people living it as an abstract issue this book tackles this through a careful engagement with existing research on globalization glocalization and neo nationalism The result is two fold first the book demonstrates that sociology confronts some profound challenges today second the author argues that an increasingly inter disciplinary sociology is already making vital contributions to our understanding of and responses to today's multiple crises
