

2024 ECONOMICS 12 MACROECONOMICS ESSAYS (P1)

A. CIRCULAR FLOW

1. Discuss in detail the markets within the FOUR-SECTOR model. (20 marks)

INTRODUCTION

- ✓ Market is the mechanism that brings buyers and sellers together to exchange goods and services. ✓✓
- ✓ Markets coordinate economic activities and determine prices of goods and services. ✓✓

BODY

PRODUCT AND FACTOR MARKETS

Product market/Goods/Output markets ✓

- Product market is where goods and services are exchanged for money. ✓✓
- E.g. Shoprite retailer. ✓
- These are markets for consumer goods and services. ✓✓
- In economics a distinction is made between goods and services:
- Goods are defined as any tangible items such as clothing, food cars that satisfy human wants or need. ✓✓
- Capital and consumer goods are traded in these markets. ✓✓
- Capital goods market are trading buildings and machinery. ✓✓
- Consumer goods markets are trading durable consumer goods, semi-durable goods and non-durable goods. ✓✓
- Services are defined as non-tangible actions e.g. wholesalers and retailer, transport and financial markets. ✓✓

Factor market/Resource/Input markets ✓

- Factor market is where factors of production are traded. ✓✓ e.g. labour is hired and capital is borrowed. ✓✓
- Households sell factors of production in this market. ✓✓
- These services earn wages for labour, interest for capital, rent for natural resources and profits for entrepreneurship. ✓✓
- Labour can be bought and sold in this market. ✓✓
- Factor market includes labour, property and financial markets. ✓✓
 - ✓ Product markets and factor markets are related in the sense that the demand for factor services is a derived demand. ✓✓

University 2006: Assessment of student satisfaction with a threefold approach Oliver Mühlich, 2007-05-30

Inhaltsangabe Abstract The aim of the research presented here is to assess student satisfaction at the Aarhus School of Business ASB for the Summer University that was first introduced in July 2006 The European Performance Satisfaction Index EPSI was adapted to incorporate student satisfaction in order to reach this aim and was used as the main approach in our thesis The necessary data was gathered from online surveys we derived from the students Two studies complemented this model On the one hand structured interviews were conducted with all relevant lecturers and on the other hand a survey was conducted in two waves with Summer University participants In the first wave the students initial expectations were measured and in the second wave it was the degree of fulfilment for these expectations that were measured Results from the EPSI model indicated that participants of the Summer University were satisfied overall with the program and will remain loyal Surprisingly however the variable image showed no direct impact on perceived value satisfaction and loyalty The results from the interviews showed that lecturers were well chosen but not adequately prepared for the program In addition the survey results indicated that expectations were to some degree fulfilled but certain attributes of lecture quality experienced a negative disconfirmation of expectations Furthermore the direct comparison of data from the lecturers and the students suggested problems with the information flow between ASB the lecturers and the students From these findings it can be concluded that overall the Summer University was a success in the introduction of a new study program however there are some areas that need to be improved Thus our suggestions include new positioning and better marketing for next year concrete improvement of quality attributes and information flow and a strategy for sustainability and expansion of the Summer University Our work successfully presents student satisfaction with a threefold approach not used hitherto Combining all three approaches in one dissertation and establishing linkages and interrelations between them provides an extensive insight towards student satisfaction. Considering ASB Summer University took place for the first time in 2006 the insights we provide and the recommendations we are able to give will influence the further organisational and managerial development of the program.

When Creating Self-Regulated Learners Linda B. Nilson, 2023-07-03 Most of our students neither know how learning works nor what they have to do to ensure it to the detriment both of their studies and their development as lifelong learners. The point of departure for this book is the literature on self regulated learning that tells us that deep lasting independent learning requires learners to bring into play a range of cognitive skills affective attitudes and even physical activities about which most students are wholly unaware and that self regulation which has little to do with measured intelligence can be developed by just about anyone and is a fundamental prerequisite of academic success. Linda Nilson provides the theoretical background to student self regulation the evidence that it enhances achievement and the strategies to help students develop it. She presents an array of tested activities and assignments through which students can progressively reflect on monitor and improve their learning skills describes how they can be integrated with different course components and on various schedules and elucidates how to intentionally and seamlessly incorporate them into course design to effectively meet disciplinary and student development objectives. Recognizing that most faculty are unfamiliar with these strategies she also recommends how to prepare for introducing them into the classroom and adding more as instructors become more confident using them. The book concludes with descriptions of courses from different fields to offer models and ideas for implementation. At a time of so much concern about what our students are learning in college and how well prepared they are for the challenges of tomorrow's economy and society self regulated learning provides a reassuring solution particularly as studies indicate that struggling students benefit the most from practicing it.

Comprehensive Guide to Bar Admission Requirements, 1996 Choosing Students Wayne Camara, Ernest W. Kimmel, 2005-03-23 This volume brings a variety of perspectives to bear on the issue of how higher education institutions can or should choose students during the early part of the 21st century. Many of the contributors report on research to develop and validate potential tools to assist those responsible for admission decisions. Other contributors however pose broader questions about the nature of selective admissions about institutional responses to the changing demography of those seeking to enter higher education or about the appropriate criteria of success in higher education. The volume is particularly timely because the question of how changes in admission tools and processes will affect campus diversity following the recent Supreme Court decision concerning the University of Michigan. Diversity is an important concern of all of the contributors and the chapter by Lee Bollinger President at Michigan at the time the court cases were filed is particularly relevant. This book brings together the research that underlies a variety of proposed approaches to improving the selection of students. Providing support for the integrity of the admissions process and the validity of new tools to help a higher education institution to select a diverse student body this book explores the implications of the assessment component of K 12 school reform for higher education admissions practices The diverse contributions to this volume reflect the current ferment in educational research and educational practice as institutions of higher education seek to develop a new admissions paradigm for coming decades following the University of Michigan decisions This book is intended for those leaders and professionals who set admission policies and practices in American colleges and graduate and professional schools as well as for those scholars and scientists who research develop and validate tools for use in the process of choosing students in ways that are congruent with an institution s mission values and goals
