The Power of Words:

Announcing the BCA's Fall 2022 Short Story Contest for Youth

Local youth aged 9-14 who either reside or attend school in Blackburn Hamlet are invited to submit an original short story in English or French. Participants must be at least 9 years old and not older than 14 years old as of December 31, 2022.

The fictional story must demonstrate or bring alive some aspect of the theme "the power of words, spoken or written" and it must be between 175 and 225 words long.

The first place winner will receive a cash prize of $150 and three follow-up winners will each receive a cash prize of $75. The first prize story will be published in the February 2023 issue of the BANAR and all winning stories will also appear on the BCA website. The stories will be reviewed by a panel of at least three judges.

Stories should be submitted by email as a plain text PDF attachment to youth@blackburnhamlet.ca not later than

8 pm on 19 January 2023. The email attachment should be labelled as follows: first name_last name_age as of 31 Dec 2022_name of school.

Tips and guidance on writing a short story will be available on the BCA's website (under youth engagement) as of December 2, 2022.

Fossati, 2024-09-05 Through detailed close readings alongside investigations into the history of print culture Marta Fossati traces the development of the South African short story in English from the late 1920s to the first decade of the twenty first century She examines a selection of short stories by important Black South African writers Rolfes and Herbert Dhlomo Peter Abrahams Can Themba Alex La Guma Mtutuzeli Matshoba Ahmed Essop and Zo Wicomb with an alertness to the dialogue between ethics and aesthetics performed by these texts This new history of Black short fiction problematises and interrogates the often polarised readings of Black literature in South Africa that can be torn between notions of literariness protest and journalism Due to material constraints short fiction in South Africa circulated first and foremost through local print media which Fossati analyses in detail to show the cross fertilisation between journalism and the short story While rooted in the South African context the short stories considered also hold a translocal dimension allowing us to explore the ethical and aesthetic practice of intertextuality These are writings that complicate the aesthetics ethics binary generic classifications and the categories of the literary and the political Theoretically eclectic in its approach although largely underpinned by a narratological analysis The South African Short Story in English 1920 2010 When Aesthetics Meets Ethics offers a fresh perspective on the South African short story in English spotlighting several hitherto marginalised figures in South African literary studies Post-Experimentalism Nathaniel Tower, Rick Taliaferro, Bartleby Snopes, 2012-10-21 The Companion to the American Short Story traces the development of this versatile literary genre over the past two centuries. Written by leading critics in the field and edited by two major scholars, it explores a wide range of writers from Edgar Allan Poe and Edith Wharton at the end of the nineteenth century to important modern writers such as Ernest Hemingway, William Faulkner, F. Scott Fitzgerald, and Richard Wright. Contributions with a broader focus address groups of multiethnic Asian and Jewish writers. Each chapter places the short story into context, focusing on the interaction of cultural forces and aesthetic principles. The Companion takes account of cutting-edge approaches to literary studies and contributes to the ongoing redefinition of the American canon, embracing genres such as ghost and detective fiction, cycles of interrelated short fiction, and comic social and political stories. The volume also reflects the diverse communities that have adopted this literary form and made it their own, featuring entries on a variety of feminist and multicultural traditions. This volume presents an important new consideration of the role of the short story in the literary history of American literature.

The Literary History of Alberta Volume Two George Melnyk, 1998. In this companion to the landmark volume The Literary History of Alberta Volume One: From Writing on Stone to World War Two, George Melnyk examines Alberta literature in the second half of the twentieth century. At last, Melnyk argues, Alberta writers have found their voice, and their accomplishments have been remarkable. The contradictory landscape, the stereotypes of the Indian, the Mountie, and the Cowboy, and the language of the Other speaking from the margins: these elements all left their impressions on the consciousness of early Alberta. But writers in the last few decades have turned this inheritance to their advantage to create compelling stories about this place and its people. Today, Melnyk discovers, Alberta writers can appreciate not only this achievement but also its essential source: the symbolic communication of Writing on Stone. The Literary History of Alberta Volume Two extends the study of Alberta's cultural history to the present day. It is a vital text for anyone interested in Alberta's vibrant literary culture.

The Novel in Africa and the Caribbean Since 1950 Simon Gikandi, 2016. The Novel in Africa and the Caribbean since 1950 examines the institutional and social peculiarities that make fiction produced in Africa and the Atlantic World since 1950 important to the history of the novel in English.

Speak So I Shall Know Thee William J. Walsh, 2012-02-29. A. R. Ammons was asked if he agreed that the United States has not produced a major poet in the last 30 years. I agree. The poetry in the country has become sort of a company affair where support for the arts has just about ruined the arts, and the system of bureaucrats managing the funds being developed here and there is turning into trade unionism, which may be the best way to write poetry, but it is unfamiliar to me. This comprehensive collection contains 31 interviews in which Southern writers talk about their craft, the Southern literary scene, and themselves. Poets, short story writers, and novelists include firmly established writers side by side with emerging talent. Lee Smith, James Dickey, Harry Crews, Pat Conroy, Doris Betts, Pulitzer Prize winner Donald Justice, and 25 others.

explores mourning practices in postwar Central America particularly in El Salvador and Guatemala Ignacio Sarmiento delves into the intricate dynamics of grieving through an interdisciplinary lens analyzing expressions of mourning in literature theater and sites of memory At the heart of this analysis is the contention over who has the right to mourn how mourning is performed and who is included in this process Sarmiento reveals mourning not as a private affair but as a battleground where different societal factions vie for the possibility of grieving the dead Through meticulous research and theoretical nuance Specters of War sheds light on the politics of mourning in postconflict societies Sarmiento argues that mourning is not merely a personal experience but a deeply political act intertwined with power struggles and societal divisions From victims of state terrorism to military elites various groups engage in a complex dance of grief revealing the fraught nature of public mourning in postwar Central America By examining cultural artifacts and memorialization projects Sarmiento uncovers the multifaceted nature of mourning and its implications for memory justice and reconciliation This groundbreaking work is essential reading for scholars students and professionals interested in Central American history and culture as well as post authoritarian societies Specters of War promises to deepen our understanding of postwar Central America and the legacy of loss in shaping collective identities and narratives of the past
