The EU as global actor and its influence on the global gender regime Stefanie Kessler, 2009-02-16 Research Paper postgraduate from the year 2008 in the subject Politics Topic European Union grade B 1 7 University of Auckland language English abstract In the last years the European Union EU transformed the European gender regime towards gender equality thoroughly This dissertation deals with the question of the EU s external influence on transforming societies Is the external influence coherent with internal claims Trade is the EU s most important external policy area The EU is an economic giant based on the largest single market in the world Thus the EU has power in and through trade The EU makes increasingly the adaptation of normative standards a condition to access its market Does the EU integrate also standards on gender equality And does the EU transform gender regimes globally through trade What impacts does the EU have on gender regimes This dissertation examines gender impacts in the Sustainability Impact Assessments that show possible impacts of trade agreements between the EU and its partners The analysis shows that gender is secondary to economic growth and not directed towards gender equality As a consequence the EU does not use its power through trade and the coherence of internal and external efforts is questionable Literature, Ethics, and Decolonization in Postwar France Daniel Just, 2015-02-09 A wide ranging account of French literature of the 1950s and 1960s showing how politically engaged leading writers were The Development of Economics in Western Europe Since 1945 A. W. (Bob) Coats, 2005-08-19 The volume goes beyond the conventional history of economics in its emphasis on the historical and institutional context economic policy and the development of economics as a profession Postwar History Education in Japan and the Germanys Julian Beatus Dierkes, 2010 How did East and West Germany and Japan reconstitute national identity after World War II Did all three experience parallel reactions to national trauma and reconstruction History education shaped how these nations reconceived their national identities Because the content of history education was controlled by different actors history education materials framed national identity in very different ways In Japan where the curriculum was controlled by bureaucrats bent on maintaining their purported neutrality materials focused on the empirical building blocks of history wh Europe in Crisis Tibor Iván Berend, 2013 This book analyzes the European Great Recession of 2008 12 its economic and social causes its historical roots and the policies adopted by the European Union to find a way out of it It contains explicit debates with several economists and analysts on some of the most controversial questions about the causes of the crisis and the policies applied by the European Union It presents the cases of Iceland Greece and Ireland the countries that first declined into crisis in Europe each of them in a different way Iceland is a case study for reckless banking practices Greece of reckless public spending and Ireland of reckless household indebtedness At least seven other countries mostly from the peripheries of Europe had similarly reckless banking and spending practices In the center of the book are the economic and social causes of the crisis Contemporary advanced capitalism became financialized de industrialized and globalized and got rid of the straitjacket of regulations Solid banking was replaced by high risk casino type activity The European common currency also had a structural problem monetary unification without a federal state and fiscal unification The other side of the same coin is European hyper consumerism A new lifestyle emerged during two super prosperous periods in the 1950s to 1960s and during the 1990s to 2006 Trying to find an exit policy the European Union turned to strict austerity measures to curb the budget deficit and indebtedness This book critically analyzes the debate around austerity policy The creation of important supra national institutions and of a financial supervisory authority and stability mechanisms strengthens integration The correction of the euro s structural mistake by creating a quasi fiscal unification is even more important The introduction of mandatory fiscal rules and their supervision promises a long term solution for a well functioning common currency These measures meanwhile create a two tier European Union with a fast track core This book suggests that the European Union will emerge stronger from the crisis This book will be of particular interest to students and researchers of economics history political science and international finance but will also prove profitable reading for practitioners and the interested public

The Greek Civil War Thanasis D. Sfikas, 2017-07-05 Half a century after the civil war which tore apart Greek society in the 1940s the essays in this volume look back to examine the crisis They bring a new comparative approach to the study of the Greek Civil War and establish the sometimes obscure links between Greek and European historical developments in the 1940s They also highlight the complexity and interconnections of the social economic and political cleavages that split Greek society and provide a comprehensive and subtle understanding of the origins course and impact of the Greek Civil War in a variety of contexts and levels Combining the approaches of political and international history with the latest research into the social economic religious cultural ideological and literary aspects of the struggle and underpinned by the use of a wide range of hitherto neglected sources The Greek Civil War broadens the scope of the enquiry and offers fresh analysis

Postwar History Education in Japan and the Germanys Julian Dierkes, 2010-12-14 How did East and West Germany and Japan reconstitute national identity after World War II Did all three experience parallel reactions to national trauma and reconstruction History education shaped how these nations reconceived their national identities Because the content of history education was controlled by different actors history education materials framed national identity in very different ways In Japan where the curriculum was controlled by bureaucrats bent on maintaining their purported neutrality materials focused on the empirical building blocks of history who where what at the expense of discussions of historical responsibility In East Germany where party cadres controlled the curriculum students were taught that World War II was a capitalist aberration In West Germany where teachers controlled the curriculum students were taught the lessons of shame and then regeneration after historians turned away from grand national narratives This book shows that constructions of national identity are not easily malleable on the basis of moral and political concerns only but that they are subject to institutional constraints and opportunities In an age when post conflict reconstruction and reconciliation has become a major focus of international policies the analysis offers important implications for the parallel revision of portrayals of national history and the institutional reconstruction of policy making regimes

Economic Growth in Europe Since 1945 N. F. R. Crafts, Gianni Toniolo, 1996-04-18 This compelling volume re examines the topic of economic growth in Europe after the Second World War The contributors approach the subject armed not only with new theoretical ideas but also with the experience of the 1980s on which to draw The analysis is based on both applied economics and on economic history Thus while the volume is greatly informed by insights from growth theory emphasis is given to the presentation of chronological and institutional detail The case study approach and the adoption of a longer run perspective than is normal for economists allow new insights to be obtained As well as including chapters that consider the experience of individual European countries the book explores general European institutional arrangements and historical circumstances The result is a genuinely comparative picture of post war growth with insights that do not emerge from standard cross section regressions based on the post 1960 period
