Immigration Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts, 2011-05-17 This report focuses on how well the UK Border Agency has achieved its objectives of an efficient and effective system for managing migration of workers from outside the European Economic Area The Agency implemented a Points Based System in 2008 which introduced three main routes for people to come to the UK to work replacing the previous 39 types of work visa The System incorporates a route for students to come to the UK to study which is not considered in this report The System works by awarding applicants points based on for example their skills qualifications and salary and requiring them to meet a minimum points threshold The System is objective transparent and flexible as the points required can be modified to respond to changing needs in the UK workforce However the Agency has not been doing enough to protect resident workers and ensure that migrant workers and sponsoring employers comply with immigration rules A lack of exit controls makes this more difficult The Agency estimates there may be 181 000 migrants still in the UK whose permission to remain has expired since December 2008 The Points Based System is rule based and requires applicants to supply specific documentation to support their applications Applicants however have needed more help to understand the rules and the Agency has introduced a policy of evidential flexibility allowing caseworkers to request additional information in support of applications to prevent applications being rejected for easily corrected mistakes however this is not applied consistently The Committee welcomes plans to introduce an integrated casework system which should provide the information necessary for dealing with these issues and expect to see improved performance once the new casework system is fully operational from 2013

Cross-Border Marriages Apostolos Andrikopoulos, Joëlle Moret, Janine Dahinden, 2023-03-21 Marriages that involve the migration of at least one of the spouses challenge two intersecting facets of the politics of belonging the making of the good and legitimate citizens and the acceptable family In Europe cross border marriages have been the target of increasing state controls an issue of public concern and the object of scholarly research The study of cross border marriages and the ways these marriages are framed is inevitably affected by states concerns and priorities There is a need for a reflexive assessment of how the categories employed by state institutions and agents have impacted the study of cross border marriages This collection of essays analyses what is at stake in the regulation of cross border marriages and how European states use particular categories e g sham forced and mixed marriages to differentiate between acceptable and non acceptable marriages When researchers use these categories unreflexively they risk reproducing nation centred epistemologies and reinforcing state informed hierarchies and forms of exclusion The chapters in this book offer new insights into a timely topic and suggest ways to avoid these pitfalls differentiating between categories of analysis and categories of practice adopting methodologies that do not mirror nation states logic and engaging with general social theory outside migration studies This book will be of interest to researchers and academics of Sociology Politics International Relations Social and Cultural Anthropology Human Geography Social Work and Public Policy Barring one all the chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue in the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies
