

Autobiography

What is an Autobiography?

An autobiography is a text that is written to inform the reader about a real person's life. The author of the text is the person featured in the autobiography.

Characteristics of Autobiography

- The author is the person featured in the autobiography.
- Written in first person (uses I, me, my).
- Shares important events and details from the person's life.
- All the events are true.

Why do authors write autobiographies?

Authors write autobiographies to inform the read about their actual life. They want to share the important events that shaped who they are.

Forgotten Children Linda A. Pollock,1983-11-24 The history of childhood is an area so full of errors distortion and misinterpretation that I thought it vital if progress were to be made to supply a clear review of the information on childhood contained in such sources as diaries and autobiographies Dr Pollock s statement in her Preface will startle readers who have not questioned the validity of recent theories on the evolution of childhood and the treatment of children theories which see a movement from a situation where the concept of childhood was almost absent and children were cruelly treated to our present western recognition that children are different and should be treated with love and affection Linda examines this thesis particularly through the close and careful analysis of some hundreds of English and American primary sources Through these sources she has been able to reconstruct probably for the first time a genuine picture of childhood in the past and it is a much more humane and optimistic picture than the current stereotype Her book contains a mass of novel and original material on child rearing practices and the relations of parents and children and sets this in the wider framework of developmental psychology socio biology and social anthropology Forgotten Children admirably fulfils the aim of its author In the face of this scholarly and elegant account of the continuity of parental care few will now be able to argue for dramatic transformations in the twentieth century
