Black performers, however, were marginalized, mostly limited to appearing in specialty acts and various types of short films, whereas stardom was reserved for Whites. Jumping the Color Line discusses vernacular jazz dance in film as a focal point of American race relations. Looking at intersections of race, gender, and class, the book examines how the racialized and gendered body in film performs challenges and negotiates identities and stereotypes. Arguing for the transformative and subversive potential of jazz dance performance onscreen, the six chapters address a variety of films and performers, including many that have received little attention to date. Topics include Hollywood's first Black female star, Nina Mae McKinney; male tap dance class acts in Black cast short films of the early 1930s; the film career of Black tap soloist, Jeni LeGon; the role of dance in the Soundies jukebox shorts of the 1940s; cinematic images of the Lindy hop; and a series of teen films from the early 1940s that appealed primarily to young White fans of swing culture. With a majority of examples taken from marginal film forms such as shorts and B movies, the book highlights their role in disseminating alternative images of racial and gender identities as embodied by dancers, images that were at least partly at odds with those typically found in major Hollywood productions. My Mathematical Universe: People, Personalities, And The Profession Krishnaswami Alladi, 2022-11-15 This is an autobiography and an exposition on the contributions and personalities of many of the leading researchers in mathematics and physics with whom Dr. Krishna Alladi, Professor of Mathematics at the University of Florida, has had personal interaction with for over six decades.
