Personal Devotional Guide 2013:

Domestic Devotions in Medieval and Early Modern Europe Salvador Ryan, 2020-05-28 Domestic devotion has become an increasingly important area of research in recent years with the publication of a number of significant studies on the early modern period in particular This Special Issue aims to build on these works and to expand their range both geographically and chronologically This collection focuses on lived religion and the devotional practices found in the domestic settings of late medieval and early modern Europe More particularly it investigates the degree to which the experience of personal or familial religious practice in the domestic realm intersected with the more public expression of faith in liturgical or communal settings Its broad geographical range spanning northern southern central and eastern Europe includes practices related to Christianity Judaism and Islam This Special Issue will be of interest to historians art historians medievalists early modernists historians of religion anthropologists and theologians as well as those interested in the history of material religious culture It also offers important insights into research areas such as gender studies histories of the emotions and histories of the senses The Upper Room Disciplines 2013 Upper Room Books, 2007-08 Offers daily Bible readings and reflections that can develop the practice of spending regular devotional time with scripture The Bhagavad-Gita for the Modern Reader M. V. Nadkarni, 2016-10-04 What is the Bhagavad Gita Is it just a religious text When was it composed How relevant is it to the modern world This book answers these foundational questions and goes beyond It critically examines the Bhagavad Gita in terms of its liberal humanist and inclusive appeal bringing out its significance for the present times and novel applications The author elaborates the philosophy underlying the text as also its ethical spiritual and moral implications He also responds to criticisms that have been levelled against the text by Ambedkar D D Kosambi and more recently Amartya Sen The volume proposes unique bearings of the text in diverse fields such as business management and scientific research Eclectic and accessible this work will be of interest to scholars of philosophy religion history business management studies as well as the general reader IDIOT LOVE and the Elements of Intimacy David Stromberg, 2020-05-05 This book turns our search for intimacy on its head suggesting that our way to creativity in love may be through idiocy The book takes its readers on a journey through the work of Plato and Melanie Klein in theorizing the dynamics of intimacy while exploring some of the paradoxical aspects of love in works by Fyodor Dostoevsky and French filmmaker Catherine Breillat Revisiting core concepts of how we think about relationships the book lays out a model for relational breakdown the idiot lovecycle in which we are constantly in the flux between seeing ourselves and seeing the other Effecting close readings of literary philosophical and psychoanalytical sources the book draws on parallels between these fields of inquiry while tracing their shared intellectual genealogy suggesting that the tension between Narcissus and Cassandra with its inherent conflicts is also the space through which love emerges from intimacy Johannine Belief and Graeco-Roman Devotion Chris Seglenieks, 2020-09-29 In this volume Christopher Seglenieks offers a study of the complex meaning in John's Gospel of genuine belief arguing it includes cognitive relational ethical ongoing and public aspects He compares it with Graeco Roman religious practices and highlights the distinctiveness of Johannine belief whose features are motivated by John's picture of Jesus

Devotion to the Administrative State Mona Oraby, 2024-03-26 Why the pursuit of state recognition by seemingly marginal religious groups in Egypt and elsewhere is a devotional practice Over the past decade alone religious communities around the world have demanded state recognition exemption accommodation or protection They make these appeals both in states with a declared religious identity and in states officially neutral toward religion In this book Mona Oraby argues that the pursuit of official recognition by religious minorities amounts to a devotional practice Countering the prevailing views on secularism Oraby contends that demands by seemingly marginal groups to have their religious differences recognized by the state in fact assure communal integrity and coherence over time Making her case she analyzes more than fifty years of administrative judicial trends theological discourse and minority claims making practices focusing on the activities of Coptic Orthodox Christians and Bah in modern and contemporary Egypt Oraby documents the ways that devotion is expressed across a range of sites and sources including in lawyers offices administrative judicial verdicts televised media and film and invitation only study sessions She shows how Egypt's religious minorities navigated the political and legal upheavals of the 2011 uprising and now persevere amid authoritarian repression In a Muslim majority state they assert their status as Islam's others finding belonging by affirming their difference and difference Oraby argues is the necessary foundation for collective life Considering these activities in light of the global history of civil administration and adjudication Oraby shows that the lengths to which these marginalized groups go to secure their status can help us to reimagine the relationship between law and religion

The Oxford Handbook of Early Modern English Literature and Religion Andrew Hiscock, Helen Wilcox, 2017 This handbook scrutinises the links between English literature and religion specifically in the early modern period the interactions between the two fields are explored through an examination of the literary impact the British church had on published work in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries

Early Judaism Frederick E. Greenspahn, 2018-07-17 Over the past generation several major discoveries and methodological innovations have led scholars to reevaluate the foundations of Judaism The Dead Sea Scrolls are the most famous but other materials have further altered our understanding of Judaism's development after the Biblical era This volume explores some of the latest clues into how early Judaism took shape Back cover

Epigram, Art, and Devotion in Later Byzantium Ivan Drpić, 2016-07-21 Using epigrammatic poetry as a framework investigates the interplay between art and religious devotion in the later Byzantine period

Monthly Devotion From The Heart John Visaggio, 2019-04-15 The devotional is indeed comes from the heart from the emotional feeling of life itself to the personal relationship I have with God The devotional covers areas of my own experience of what I see going on in the church I see people that call themselves Christians and leave the church living just same before they came Then I see a true Christian a person that has a deep relationship with God I also share my experience of loving Christ which changed my life in a remarkable way and led me to a different direction It led me to Bible college and then to teaching Sunday school and authoring this devotional from the heart Share my experience as a Christian that has problems like everyone else in a society who is trying to live like Jesus This devotional shows the true meaning of what Isaiah quoted in Isaiah 6 89 Also I heard the voice of the Lord saying Whom shall I send and who will go for us Then I said Here am I Send me And He said Go and tell this people Keep on hearing but do not understand Keep on seeing but do not perceive In this devotion I share my suffering in a lost world and I want to share Jesus with this devotional as another venue for me to spread the Gospel to the people that need encouragement in their lives and found Jesus as his personal Savior This devotional covers the most important part of Christian life a changed life of a person a change in character attitude and behavior and to act more like Christ The devotional shows the importance of new life in Christ in my personal experience There is a genuine change within the person This devotional shows the true and honest joy and suffering of my personal life and the importance of having Jesus in the center of your life I look back and read what Paul the apostle about his suffering on all sides of the Christian life and I too shared this part in my personal experience as Paul quoted to the Corinthian church This is for all Christian experience Paul quoted We are hard pressed on every side yet not crushed we are perplexed but not in despair 9 persecuted but not forsaken struck down but not destroyed always carrying about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus that the life of Jesus also may be manifested in our body 2 Cor 4 810

Social Cognition, Motivation, and Interaction: How Do People Respond to Threats in Social Interactions? Eva Jonas,Christina Mühlberger,2018-01-12 If we want to understand people s responses to threats in social interactions we can distinguish between three levels of analysis On a social level of analysis we can describe people s interpersonal behavior on a cognitive level we can identify corresponding information processing mechanisms and on a neural level we can specify neural systems which underlie these processes In this Research Topic we want to present research connecting these three levels of analysis and propose their functional interconnection in social interaction We propose that threats in social interactions activate basic motivational processes which manifest in neural processes related to behavioral inhibition vs activation in a social situation This shapes our attention to new information and affects our cognitions about social identities belief systems and worldviews These changes in social cognition in turn affect people s behavior in social interactions and lead to corresponding reactions on behalf of the interaction partner Thus we assume that people s reactions to threat in interactions can be described as sequences of broader attentional processes resulting from basic motivational tendencies leading to specific social cognitions and subsequent behavior within social interactions We can analyze this sequence in order to contribute to a better understanding of social interactions The three levels of analyses social cognitive neural shed light on social interactions from different angles On the social level we can analyze how the behaviors of the interaction partners mutually affect each other and how this is accompanied by specific cognitive emotional and motivational processes On the cognitive level we can analyze people s perception of a social situation leading to attentional and reasoning processes with regard to their interaction partner s which may be accompanied by certain emotional and motivational processes and determines the behavior towards the partner s Finally we can focus on the neural mechanisms underlying cognitive emotional and motivational processes in social interactions
