Groeneboom, 2010 Sonic Youth Etc: side A Rats (demo) , 2008 Pictures and the Past Alexander Bigman, 2024-06-25 A fresh take on the group of artists known as the Pictures Generation reinterpreting their work as haunted by the history of fascism the threat of its return and the effects of its recurring representation in postwar American culture The artists of the Pictures Generation converging on New York City in the late 1970s indelibly changed the shape of American art Rebellious against abstraction they borrowed liberally from the aesthetics of mass media and sometimes the work of other artists It has long been thought that the group s main contribution was to upend received conceptions of authorial originality In Pictures and the Past however art critic and historian Alexander Bigman shows that there is more to this moment than just the advent of appropriation art He presents us with a bold new interpretation of the Pictures group s most significant work in particular its recurring evocations of fascist iconography In the wake of the original Pictures show curated by Douglas Crimp in 1977 artists such as Sarah Charlesworth Jack Goldstein Troy Brauntuch Robert Longo and Gretchen Bender raised pressing questions about what it means to perceive the world historically in a society saturated by images Bigman argues that their references to past cataclysms to the violence wrought by authoritarianism and totalitarianism represent not only a coded form of political commentary about the 1980s but also a piercing reflection on the nature of collective memory Throughout Bigman situates their work within a larger cultural context including parallel trends in music fashion cinema and literature Pictures and the Past probes the shifting relationships between art popular culture memory and politics in the 1970s and 80s examining how the specter of fascism loomed for artists then and the ways it still looms for us today The

Metareferential Turn in Contemporary Arts and Media Werner Wolf, 2011-01-01 One possible description of the contemporary medial landscape in Western culture is that it has gone meta to an unprecedented extent so that a remarkable meta culture has emerged Indeed metareference i e self reflexive comments on or references to various kinds of media related aspects of a given medial artefact or performance specific media and arts or the media in general is omnipresent and can nowadays be encountered in high art and literature as frequently as in their popular counterparts in the traditional media as well as in new media From the Simpsons pop music children s literature computer games and pornography to the contemporary visual arts feature film postmodern fiction drama and even architecture everywhere one can find metareferential explorations comments on or criticism of representation medial conventions or modes of production and reception and related issues Within individual media and genres notably in research on postmodernist metafiction this outspoken tendency towards metaization is known well enough and various reasons have been given for it Yet never has there been an attempt to account for what one may aptly term the current metareferential turn on a larger transmedial scale This is what The Metareferential Turn in Contemporary Arts and Media Forms Functions Attempts at Explanation undertakes to do as a sequel to its predecessor the volume Metareference across Media vol 4 in the series Studies in Intermediality which was dedicated to theoretical issues and transhistorical case studies Coming from diverse disciplinary and methodological backgrounds the contributors to the present volume propose explanations of impressive subtlety breadth and depth for the current situation in addition to exploring individual forms and functions of metareference which may be linked with particular explanations As expected there is no monocausal reason to be found for the situation under scrutiny yet the proposals made have in their compination a remarkable explanatory power which contributes to a better understanding of an important facet of current media production and reception The essays assembled in the volume which also contains an introduction with a detailed survey over the possibilities of accounting for the metareferential turn will be relevant to students and scholars from a wide variety of fields cultural history at large intermediality and media studies as well as more particularly literary studies music film and art history
