

Chapter 2 – Computerized Baggage Tracing Background

2.1 Easy Track & Acts

Easy Track – located in Miami.

Mostly used by North American carriers and owned by a company called System 2. It does matches using only the outer identifying features of a bag.

Acts

This system does secondary tracing (from Easy Track inputs after 5 days) using baggage content identifying features. Codes used in this system are completely different from World Tracer.

2.2 World Tracer

Its Central Data Base is located in Atlanta.

Owned by SITA and used by the rest of airlines in the world. It does primary tracing (like Easy Track) & secondary tracing (like Acts).

World Tracer is a full 100-day baggage tracing system, and gives the airlines option to choose any tracing period from 5 to 100 days. (Etihad has opted for 45 days tracing period).

2.3 BCCFS

Baggage Claims Central File System

This system tracks guest details for baggage claims, so that any duplicate claims can be detected before any claim is processed and settled. It is very similar to Claims Investigations module.

HPCR Manual on International Law Applicable to Air and Missile Warfare, 2013-06-28. The HPCR Manual on International Law Applicable to Air and Missile Warfare provides an up to date restatement of existing international law applicable to the conduct of air and missile warfare. The HPCR Manual and its associated rule by rule Commentary are the results of a six year endeavor led by the Program on Humanitarian Policy and Conflict Research, HPCR at Harvard University, during which it convened an international group of renowned legal experts and practitioners to reflect on the current legal framework regulating air and missile warfare from various sources of international law. Through the publication of the HPCR Manual and its associated Commentary, HPCR hopes that legal advisors and military officers will benefit from an in depth presentation and interpretation of international law applicable to military operations involving air and missile warfare. As a result, it is expected that a greater clarity of the law will enhance the protection of civilians in armed conflict.
