Economic developments in Asia have been positive so far in 2007. Growth has been stronger and in many cases more balanced than expected across much of the region, again led by China and India, and inflation pressures remain largely contained. Moreover, Asia weathered the recent financial turbulence relatively well. The outlook is favorable with growth expected to decline only modestly in 2008 as foreign demand for Asia's exports slows. The main risk for the region is a sharper than expected global slowdown. Sino-Latin American Economic Relations K.C. Fung, Alicia Garcia Herrero, 2012-01-30. This book analyses the economic and policy relationships between China and Latin America. Key issues covered by the contributors include international trade and direct investment, empirical analysis of the complementary and intra-industry trade nature of Latin American and Chinese trade, the comparison of the production and trade of parts and components in East Asia and in Latin America, and an examination of policy issues such as policies towards small and medium-sized enterprises as well as pension reforms. Assessing the Impacts of Changes in the Information Technology R&D Ecosystem National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Computer Science and Telecommunications Board, Committee on Assessing the Impacts of Changes in the Information Technology Research and Development Ecosystem, 2009-03-16. The U.S. information technology (IT) research and development (R&D) ecosystem was the envy of the world in 1995. However, this position of leadership is not a birthright and it is now under pressure. In recent years, the rapid globalization of markets, labor pools, and capital flows have encouraged many strong national competitors. During the same period, national policies have not sufficiently buttressed the ecosystem or have generated side effects that have reduced its effectiveness. As a result, the U.S. position in IT leadership today has materially eroded compared with that of prior decades, and the nation risks ceding IT leadership to other nations within a generation. Assessing the Impacts of Changes in the Information Technology R&D Ecosystem calls for a recommitment to providing the resources needed to fuel U.S. IT innovation, to removing important roadblocks that reduce the ecosystem's effectiveness in generating innovation and the fruits of innovation, and to becoming a lead innovator and user of IT. The book examines these issues and makes recommendations to strengthen the U.S. IT R&D ecosystem. The Ukraine Competitiveness Report 2008, Shifting Geo-Economic Power of the Gulf Bessma Momani, 2016-04-01. Bringing together for the first time distinguished Gulf experts to analyse the renewed geo-economic prominence of the Gulf states, this volume investigates some of the new power brokers in the world economy the oil exporting states of the Gulf The Gulf Cooperation Council's GCC members Bahrain Kuwait Oman Qatar the United Arab Emirates and Saudi Arabia collectively have the largest proven oil reserves in the world and are among the world's largest oil exporting states Gulf Arab states are actively pursuing a variety of foreign investment strategies Some of these investments are being managed by sovereign wealth funds government investment corporations and government controlled companies This renewed geo economic status has received a lot of media attention but there has been a dearth of academic study on what this shift in global economic power means for the international economic system This volume aims to fill this gap with a rigorous scholarly analysis based on primary sources and raw economic data It brings together the expertise of academics who have devoted their career to careful study of the region and of renowned scholars of international political economy

Globalisation and Higher Education in the Arab Gulf States Gari Donn, Yayha Al Manthri, 2010-05-10 In our knowledge based world the societies that prosper are the ones that generate knowledge through research through the interwoven relationship between the academe and funded research bodies and with industry They are the new centre It is strange indeed to think of the countries of the Arab Gulf States as the periphery But as the authors of this book argue very persuasively by importing a baroque arsenal of increasingly sophisticated and costly educational programmes the Arab Gulf States consume other countries knowledge and products all of which are of declining utility and sustainability Whilst universities contribute to the culture and political life of modern society the authors ask where in the Arab Gulf States is there capacity building knowledge generation and the culture of imaginative ideas that lie at the root of any civilisation By following a magistracy on a global journey through regions nations and into institutions their answers are intended to inform and to urge the Arab Gulf region into promoting education for its own self determination and even its survival
