Representations of Dalit Protagonists Hanumant Ajinath Lokhande,2024-09-23 This book interrogates canonical Indian English fiction which has Dalit characters as protagonists or major characters and argues that the representation of such characters although well meant is regulated and made unremarkable It examines how the normative discourse of the Anglophone novel portrays Dalits from an upper caste point of view devoid of Ambedkarite or Dalit consciousness and thus implicitly reinscribes the upper caste power by restricting the narrative to merely represent Dalit submission and victimhood The arguments then are substantiated by setting up a comparative framework through contrastive analysis of selected narratives by Dalit writers from Marathi Dalit literature to highlight the differential representational paradigms that mark the absence or presence of Ambedkarite consciousness and perspective

Literature, Memory, Hegemony Sharmani Patricia Gabriel, Nicholas O. Pagan, 2018-06-14. This edited book considers the need for the continued dismantling of conceptual and cultural hegemonies of East and West in the humanities and social sciences. Cutting across a wide range of literature, film and art from different contexts and ages, this collection seeks out the interpenetrating dynamic between both terms. Highlighting the inherent instability of East and West as oppositional categories, it focuses on the crossings between East and West and this nexus as a highly charged arena of encounter and collision. Drawing from varied literary contexts ranging from Victorian literature to Chinese literature and modern European literature, the book covers a diverse range of subject matter including material drawn from psychoanalytic and postcolonial theory and studies related to race, religion, diaspora and gender, and investigates topical social and political issues including terrorism, nationalism, citizenship, the refugee crisis, xenophobia and otherness. Offering a framework to consider the salient questions of cultural, ideological and geographical change in our societies, this book is a key read for those working within world literary studies.

Rewriting Resistance: Caste and Gender in Indian Literature Rakibul Islam, Jakir Hossain, 2022-05-10. Rewriting Resistance: Caste and Gender in Indian Literature explores the claustrophobic shadow of discrimination hanging over Indian women and lower caste people from ancient times. It examines how different literary figures paint a vivid and descriptive picture of the physical and psychological oppression faced throughout India. The book traces feminist resistance, subaltern resistance and resistance during the anti-colonial struggle with the literary outputs discussed working as socio-political activity against dominant ideologies. The volume further talks about the responsibility not only of those oppressed but also of us as human beings to speak out against the violation of human rights and for justice. So the book focuses on the literary writers who always dream of a better India where all people, regardless of their caste, class and gender, can live and breathe freely. The book is divided into three parts. Part I describes the plight of women, their commodification and the politics around them, and how they fight hard to regain their faded identity. Part II depicts the interesting findings on gender-caste intersections and discrimination. Part III explores the struggle of the low caste, specifically male members of the Dalit community, along with their history. It further portrays how orthodoxy in rituals creates the burden of traditional and existential crises. Rewriting Resistance: Caste and Gender in Indian Literature revisits Indian literary texts in terms of what they reveal about the resistance registered through the suffering of human beings, women and Dalits at the hands of fellow human beings, and further links the discussion to our contemporary situation. The book has a unique quality in that it is not only a detailed study of select Indian English texts but also delves into an in-depth analysis of texts from Bengali Urdu and Hindi literature The work is likely to affect and appeal to students scholars and academics and can be adopted for classroom teaching and research purposes as well      Religions, Mumbai Style Michael

Filippo Menozzi,2020-06-06 Drawing on a Marxist concept of world literature this book is a study of the manipulations of time in contemporary anglophone fiction from Africa and South Asia Through critical work and literary reading this research explores the times other than the present that seem to haunt an era of capitalist globalisation nostalgic feelings about bygone ideals of identity and community appeals to Golden Ages returns of the repressed and anxious anticipations of global extinction and catastrophe The term non synchronism explored in this book captures these dislocations of the present while offering a critical lens to grasp the politics of time of an era marked by the continuing expansion of capitalist modernity Most importantly non synchronism is a dialectical paradigm charged with antagonistic political valences The literary analysis presented in the volume hence connects the literary manipulation of time to discourses on extinction accumulation nostalgia modernity and survival in global politics and literature      Saral Prashnottar MA Semester 1 - English IV paper Saral radical poems on themes based on their experience and witnessing the trauma of violence on Dalit women's bodies thus placing caste and gender at the center of their work. They assert their subjectivity offering us a feminist poetics that is rich with insights on the Dalit body, spirituality, music, culture, Dalit connection to land and democracy. Their poems theorize women's experiences using metaphor, symbol, folk idioms as well as satire and irony to express feminist connectedness to all spheres of life. Replete with anti-caste resistance of language, form and content, Tamil Dalit feminist poets reframe both feminism and contemporary Tamil poetry. Thus Dalit feminist poetry and other cultural productions are vehicles for solidarity and democracy.
