COMMENTARY

Question context/content/style

This is the first essay question in which candidates provide a response to a previously unseen TV drama extract. They have to address the key representational aspect of regional identity in relation to camera, angle, shot and movement, mise-en-scène, sound and editing.

Reason for selection:

The assessor needs to ensure that the candidate is actually answering the question set and addresses all bullet pointed technical areas.

Care must be taken to check that the candidate has covered all technical aspects in relation to the concept of regional identity. A descriptive rather than analytical answer will not score very highly on this question.

Marks awarded and rationale: 15/50

Breakdown: EAA 06, EG 06, T 03

This candidate scored 15 marks out of 50 and therefore stayed at the bottom of level one for the mark scheme. This is a minimal response. The candidate provides a minimal discussion and understanding of regional identity, beyond the first page of the script. The candidate's response becomes almost all description of 'what happens' in the extract. There are gaps in the use of examples and discussion of how these create meaning, with very limited knowledge and understanding of how examples of the technical elements of the drama construct meaning. Sound and editing is omitted from the analysis altogether.
