Leap of Reason Mario Morino, Carol Thompson Cole, 2011. Leap of Reason is the product of decades of hard-won insights from philanthropist Mario Morino, McKinsey Company, and top social sector innovators. It is intended to spark the critically important conversations that every nonprofit board and leadership team should have in this new era of austerity. The authors make a convincing case that the nation's growing fiscal crisis will force all of us in the social sector to be clearer about our aspirations, more intentional in defining our approaches, more rigorous in gauging our progress, more willing to admit mistakes, more capable of quickly adapting and improving all with an unrelenting focus on improving lives.

Measuring and Improving Social Impacts Marc J. Epstein, Kristi Yuthas, 2017-09-08. Identifying, measuring, and improving social impact is a significant challenge for corporate and private foundations, charities, NGOs, and corporations. How best to balance possible social and environmental benefits and costs against one another? How does one bring clarity to multiple possibilities and opportunities? Based on years of work and new field studies from around the globe, the authors have written a book for managers that is grounded in the best academic and managerial research. It is a practical guide that describes the steps needed for identifying, measuring, and improving social impact. This approach is useful in maximizing the impact of different types of investments, including grants and donations, impact investments, and commercial investments. With numerous examples of actual organizational approaches, research into more than fifty organizations, and extensive practical guidance and best practices, Measuring and Improving Social Impacts fills a critical gap.

Rural Wealth Creation John L. Pender, Bruce A. Weber, Thomas G. Johnson, J. Matthew Fannin, 2014-06-05. This book investigates the role of wealth in achieving sustainable rural economic development. The authors define wealth as all assets net of liabilities that can contribute to well-being, and they provide examples of many forms of capital: physical, financial, human, natural, social, and others. They propose a conceptual framework for rural wealth creation that considers how multiple forms of wealth provide opportunities for rural development and how development strategies affect the dynamics of wealth. They also provide a new accounting framework for measuring wealth stocks and flows. These conceptual frameworks are employed in case study chapters on measuring rural wealth and on rural wealth creation strategies. Rural Wealth Creation makes numerous contributions to research on sustainable rural development. Important distinctions are drawn to help guide wealth measurement, such as the difference between the wealth located within a region and the wealth owned by residents of a region, and privately owned versus publicly owned wealth. Case study chapters illustrate these distinctions and demonstrate how different forms of wealth can be measured. Several key hypotheses are proposed about the process of rural wealth creation, and these are investigated by case study chapters assessing common rural development strategies, such as promoting rural energy industries and amenity-based development. Based on these case studies, a typology of rural wealth creation strategies is proposed and an approach to mapping the potential of such strategies in different contexts is demonstrated This book will be relevant to students researchers and policy makers looking at rural community development sustainable economic development and wealth measurement      Community Action Leaders Beverly Bunch,Dalitso Sulamoyo,2016-08-05 Examines what leaders view as their major roles responsibilities and challenges and offers ideas about how leaders can motivate and guide their employees and prepare for leadership succession Direct quotes from the local leaders make the book more interesting to read and help convey what the leaders view as important Case studies illustrate the resiliency of these leaders in addressing the needs of their communities while building a sustainable agency Evaluates different perspectives regarding whether nonprofit organizations should engage in for profit activities to generate unrestricted revenues Explores advancements and challenges in assessing the performance of organizations and programs that are designed to help low income people become self sufficient Promotes discussion with questions at the end of each chapter that are designed to encourage the readers to reflect on the material in the chapter and think about the pros and cons of different policy options and actions These questions could serve as the basis for a class discussion among students or could be incorporated into training or staff meetings for human service professionals Written in a nontechnical manner and includes a chapter on the history and evolution of Community Action agencies for readers who are unfamiliar with Community Action and the War on Poverty      Driving Networked Service Productivity Christofer F. Daiberl,2020-03-02 Christofer F Daiberl explores how to enhance the productivity of services delivered by a network of co providers Harnessing empirical insights and synthesizing contributions from service design information systems and engineering the author develops a systematic productivity improvement technique The technique supports practitioners to iteratively discover and seize opportunities to enhance productivity for their own organization customers and relevant co providers Reflecting on the overall results five general design principles are proposed that support the development of new artifacts fostering truly productive services in a networked world      Nonprofit Management Michael J.
