Recap

This month, I helped the marketing team with their writing and SEO to improve the content for the website. I also guided them on how to write the copy and design creatives for new ads that have gone out on LinkedIn and Facebook. Finally, along with the CMO, I identified a new target vertical that I think would be a great fit for your business's service and who would be receptive to its marketing: manufacturing companies.

Actions Taken

- Published 2 new pieces of long-form content.
- Allocated $4000 towards LinkedIn and Facebook ads
- Conducted market research to find a new target vertical: manufacturing companies

Results

- Ranked in the top 10 for 2 of our target keywords, and increased site traffic by 10%.
- Generated 15 sales from our PPC campaign
- Built a list of 500 prospective clients in the new target vertical to begin outreach efforts

Suggest Next Steps

Based on these results, I suggest that we shift resources from PPC over to SEO. Since SEO is outperforming PPC campaigns, we should be able to drive more traffic by investing more in the site's SEO.

I suggest we have a call next week to discuss the next steps. Does next Wednesday at 2:00 pm work for you?
