

Reflection on Volunteering in the Community Service

3 pages | 681 words

The idea of community service was a bore to me before I started my volunteer work. I was scared to start my community service even though I knew I had to do it. I didn't even care about where I earned my hours. I just wanted to get it over with. To my surprise, it wasn't exactly what I expected. Community service has not been a painful experience; it has been a very enjoyable and beneficial experience. I performed my community service with Dual Blessing Sdn Bhd. Dual Blessings provides services such as vocational training to achieve a breakthrough in their lives that enables disabilities to have better job opportunities. On that day of servicing, I managed to have a sharing session with Mr Goh, which was the person in charge of the organization, and got to know the insights of some other friends with disability. Hence, I understand their pasts and gave them appropriate confidence and encouragement for them to step back into the society. All of us are living on the Earth that is a habitat for humanity, and we were not placed here by chance. If we are living together, we have the responsibility for each other. We should help anyone who is in need and be sympathetic to others. They are also very motivated because as follows by the quote said by Mr. Goh "Instead of giving them fish, we teach how to fish". They have never asked anything from anyone and worked for everything to the best extend within their capabilities. I helped them to cook lunch and clean up their surroundings and places where they couldn't reach. During the time I understand that I do this work because I love those people and want to make their life easier. I wasn't because of the responsibilities, it was because I wanted to do that. Nobody's going to pay me, nobody's going to say "thank you," but I still wanted to help others. I found out that community service helps us understand a lot of things we've never known of before. This helps me to think about the motivations and consequences of my daily actions, and also help me to set my goals properly. Community service has helped me to notice other people who have surrounded me and become a true part of society, not just a factual part of it. I found that it's not difficult to volunteer for community service, and all the lessons I've learned will have a significant impact on my future life. The construction of community service requires people to work in groups, I'm sure it's another big advantage that shouldn't be overlooked. If you work in a group, you connect with others, and this contact will change a lot in your life. First of all, you've got a chance to learn from others. Community service does not require any specific training or education to become a member of it. Obviously, not everyone is completely aware of things, and that's a good chance to learn from someone who is more skilled. I have never been a good cook, but the time...

Reflection Paper On Volunteering:

Volunteer Work, Informal Learning and Social Action Fiona Duguid, Karsten Mündel, Daniel

Schugurensky, 2013-06-12 Since most research on work focuses on paid work and most literature on education concentrates on schools it is not surprising that studies on the relations between work and learning emphasize the relations between paid employment and organized education This unique book deals with an area that has been rarely covered in the literature on work and education the connections between volunteer work and informal learning Through a variety of examples ranging from the Red Cross to teacher labourers from cooperatives to social housing and from participatory democracy to environmental social movements this volume examines the learning dimension of volunteer work in different contexts It also considers the special case of volunteerism among recent immigrants The case studies analyze three basic types of voluntary organizations those providing social services representing local communities and mobilizing for social change The chapters include profiles of the actual work their members do and detailed accounts of the learning practices they are engaged in during their work and the impact of such learning on their personal and professional development The concluding chapter offers a comparative analysis practical recommendations and steps for further research Finding Meaning in Civically Engaged Scholarship

Marissa L. Diener, Hank Liese, 2009-06-01 The essays in this volume are a collection of reflective narratives rather than traditional scholarly treatises The book is divided into two parts The first part describes our individual journeys as each of us found our way to civically engaged scholarship and came to see it as critical to our academic endeavors and identity This section also highlights the interdisciplinary nature of our work as we discuss our journeys through our own disciplinary lenses The second part presents detailed examples of our civic engagement including service learning classes community based research projects and creation of community service learning spaces These chapters provide a varied picture of the available avenues for civic engagement for students and faculty in a higher education setting We provide sufficient details of our projects and classes to enable replication The book concludes with a discussion of civic engagement as it is defined in the literature The conclusion also discusses institutional factors that support and promote civic engagement as well as the importance of community involvement in service learning Five common themes that emerged across the chapters are described These themes include the use of service learning and civic engagement as an effective pedagogy the relationship between civic engagement and political activism the importance of partnership and collaboration the meaning found in civic engagement and the challenges of civically engaged work Living memories reflections of students volunteering in VA hospitals. ,

Making Volunteers Nina Eliasoph, 2011-02-28 An inside look at how community service organizations really work Volunteering improves inner character builds community cures poverty and prevents crime We've all heard this kind of empowerment talk from nonprofit and government sponsored civic programs But what do these programs really accomplish In Making Volunteers Nina Eliasoph offers an in depth humorous wrenching and at times uplifting look inside youth and adult civic programs She reveals an urgent need for policy reforms in order to improve these organizations and shows that while volunteers learn important lessons they are not always the lessons that empowerment programs aim to teach With short term funding and a dizzy mix of mandates from multiple sponsors community programs develop a complex web of intimacy governance and civic life Eliasoph describes the at risk youth served by such programs the college bound volunteers who hope to feel selfless inspiration and plump up their resumes and what happens when the two groups are expected to bond instantly through short term projects She looks at adult plug in volunteers who working in after school programs and limited by time hope to become like beloved aunties to youth Eliasoph indicates that adult volunteers can provide grassroots support but they can also undermine the family like warmth created by paid organizers Exploring contradictions between the democratic rhetoric of empowerment programs and the bureaucratic hurdles that volunteers learn to navigate the book demonstrates that empowerment projects work best with less precarious funding more careful planning and mandatory training reflection and long term commitments from volunteers Based on participant research inside civic and community organizations Making Volunteers illustrates what these programs can and cannot achieve and how to make them more effective Perspectives on Volunteering Jacqueline Butcher, Christopher J.

Einolf, 2016-08-10 This volume overlooks the distinct expressions and awareness of volunteering in the lived reality of people from different regions of the world By casting the net widely this book not only expands the geographic reach of experiences models and case studies but also transcends the conventional focus on formal volunteering It highlights institutional forms of volunteering specific to developing nations and also describes volunteering that is more loosely institutionalized informal and a part of solidarity and collective spirit As a result this book provides a different look at the values meaning acts and expressions of volunteering The chapters in this book consist of essays and case studies that present recent academic research thinking and practice on volunteering Working from the premise that volunteering is universal this collection draws on experiences from Latin America Africa including Egypt and Asia This book focuses on developing countries and countries in transition in order to provide a fresh set of experiences and perspectives on volunteering While developing countries and countries in transition are in the spotlight for this volume the developed country experience is not ignored Rather the essays use it as a critical reference point for comparisons allowing points of convergence disconnect and intersection to emerge

Service-Learning and Writing: Paving the Way for Literacy(ies) through Community Engagement Isabel Baca, 2012-11-20 Service learning and Writing Paving the Way for Literacy(ies) through Community Engagement discusses service learning as a teaching and learning method and its integration with writing The various authors from different disciplines and institutions present service learning as a means of having students practice writing in real world settings and they show how relationship building and partnerships between higher education and diverse communities produce benefits for all involved the students faculty administrators and the communities themselves This volume demonstrates how writing instruction and or writing practice can complement community engagement and outreach at local national and international contexts Through different cross cultural contexts and academic disciplines the various authors explore reflection assessment internalization diversity and multiple literacies and their importance when integrating service learning in higher education and community literacy

Becoming Beholders Karen E. Eifler, Thomas M. Landy, 2014 Catholic colleges and universities have long engaged in conversation about how to fulfill their mission in creative ways across the curriculum The sacramental vision of Catholic higher education posits that God is made manifest in the study of all disciplines Becoming Beholders is the first book to share pedagogical strategies about how to do that Twenty faculty from many religious backgrounds and in fields such as chemistry economics English history mathematics sociology and theology discuss ways that their teaching nourishes students ability to find the transcendent in their studies

The Changing Face of Volunteering in Hospice and Palliative Care Ros Scott, Steven Howlett, 2018 Volunteers will have a vital role in delivering the services of the future This book explores volunteering in hospice and palliative care worldwide analysing how and why volunteering is changing Key topics discussed include influences of culture legislation and the place of volunteering within the multi professional team

Event Volunteering. Karen A. Smith, Leonie Lockstone-Binney, Kirsten Holmes, Tom Baum, 2014-05-09 Volunteers make important contributions across the spectrum of event settings most visibly at high profile mega events such as the Olympic Games they are volunteers are lauded as Games makers unsung heroes and the like Less visibly volunteers are the heart and soul of community events and festivals often undertaking multi faceted roles from event leadership through to operations and ensuring that these celebrations are made possible in the absence of big budgets and professional event staff This book is the first to showcase and advance international research into the volunteering experience at events drawing on the work of key scholars in this field Events of all sizes benefit from volunteer support but event volunteering research is frequently case study based and individually these cases make a limited impact This text brings together cases from around the world specifically including those that expand theoretical and methodological boundaries It features mega events like the 2012 Olympics and the 2011 Rugby World Cup alongside music festivals and sports events New areas that are examined include the benefits of event volunteering for students the role of volunteers in social enterprise events and new methodological approaches to researching this phenomenon specifically ethnographic and cross national studies This innovative book acts as a global source of key information for practitioners and researchers an important text for students of event management and will provide stimulus for further work in this emerging area

Community-Based Transformational Learning Christian Winterbottom, Manja Klemencic, Jody S. Nicholson, Paul Ashwin, F. Dan Richard, 2021-12-30 Rooted in the work of community school collaborations this text focuses on connecting the rigors of the classroom with the ambiguity of lived community experience Community Based Transformational Learning CBTL draws on the increasing evidence that course learning conducted in an applied community setting can positively transform students professional and personal identity and creates new ways of thinking and working in university courses and pre professional experiences To illustrate the different ways to successfully implement community based learning examples are provided of experiences integrated in courses across multiple disciplines across an American university whose mission is focused on teaching Topics covered include refugee and immigration transition issues incarceration and health needs with international examples of community experiences from Jamaica Korea and Belize Qualitative and quantitative data depict how these experiences impact students and each chapter presents how community engagement has been established as an effective approach in the different disciplines including computer science and sports management The authors demonstrate how CBTL experiences can be transformative when students are provided a chance to connect the academic commitment to community aims but also provides suggestions for overcoming challenges and pit falls in developing these experiences Quick Hits for Service-Learning M. A. Cooksey, Kimberly T. Olivares, 2010-11-15 Service learning the integration of classroom instruction with community service projects is rapidly gaining momentum as a successful teaching and learning strategy that benefits both students and their communities Quick Hits for Service Learning presents more than 80 examples of innovative curricula developed by educators in a wide range of disciplines designed to combine community service with instruction and reflection Seven chapters offer tips for classroom activities that focus on the education of children and youth civic awareness engagement and activism language literature and communication global studies and local outreach to exceptional populations the study of history the social sciences and the arts business industry and the health sciences and the teaching of research and other tools of the trade Brimming with ideas that busy faculty members can easily adapt to their own classrooms this book is a valuable reference for faculty new to the field or seasoned practitioners looking for fresh ideas

Journeys of Discovery in Volunteer Tourism Kevin D. Lyons, Stephen Wearing, 2008 Offers an insight into how volunteer tourism is growing and developing This title includes case studies from researchers in the field which explore the experiences of the volunteer tourist and the relationships between volunteers and host communities and commercial non commercial and government entities involved in volunteer tourism Social Justice, Poverty and Race ,2011-01-01 A clear understanding of social justice requires complex rather than simple answers It requires comfort with ambiguity rather than absolute answers This is counter to viewing right versus wrong just vs unjust or good vs evil as dichotomies This book provides many examples of where and how to begin to view these as continuums rather than dichotomies Journal of International Students: Vol 10 No S2 (2020): Special Issue: Reflection and Reflective Thinking Krishna Bista, Chris Glass, Mary Ryan, Georgina Barton, 2020-11-10 Journal of International Students Vol 10 No S2 2020 Special Issue Reflection and Reflective Thinking The Journal of International Students JIS an academic interdisciplinary and peer reviewed publication Print ISSN 2162 3104 Online ISSN 2166 3750 publishes scholarly peer reviewed articles on international
