Mental Health in South Asia: Ethics, Resources, Programs and Legislation Jitendra Kumar Trivedi, Adarsh Tripathi, 2014-11-28 Asia is by far the largest continent in the world in terms of area with population exceeding 3.5 billion and has dozens of cultures, religions, languages, and ethnic groups. As a result of its highly varied political systems, Asia also spawns a wide variety of health care systems, including mental health care systems often based on historical roots and at times colonial heritages. The people who suffer from mental or neurological disorders in the continent form a vulnerable section of society and often face stigma, discrimination, and marginalization in all societies, and this increases the likelihood that their human rights will be violated. This book tackles the issue of mental health legislation in South Asia. The first of its kind, it addresses an issue that is necessary for protecting the rights of people with mental disorders and serves as an essential text for reinforcing mental health policy in South Asia. It is a timely addition to our global understanding of mental health and how different regions address it.

World Atlas of Mangroves Mark Spalding, Mami Kainuma, Lorna Collins, 2010. This atlas provides the first truly global assessment of the state of the world's mangroves. Written by the leading expert on mangroves with support from the top international researchers and conservation organizations, this full-color atlas contains 60 full-page maps, hundreds of photographs and illustrations, and a comprehensive country-by-country assessment of mangroves. Included are the first detailed estimates of changes in mangrove forest cover worldwide and at regional and national levels, an assessment of these changes, and a country-by-country examination of biodiversity protection. The book also presents a wealth of global statistics on biodiversity, habitat area loss, and economic value, which provide a unique record of mangroves against which future threats and changes can be evaluated. Case studies written by regional experts provide insights into regional mangrove issues, including primary and potential productivity, biodiversity, and information on present and traditional uses and values and sustainable management.
