The Wire, Deadwood, Homicide, and NYPD Blue Jason P. Vest, 2010-11-02 This book offers the only examination of the television writing of David Milch and David Simon as significant contributions to American culture literature and social realism David Milch and David Simon are two of the most prolific and successful television drama writers in the last 30 years These talented writers have combined real world knowledge with wild imaginations and understandings of the human psyche to create riveting shows with realistic environments and storylines Milch and Simon's writing have resulted in television series that have earned both critical acclaim and millions of viewers The Wire Deadwood Homicide and NYPD Blue Violence is Power is the most comprehensive text yet written about Milch and Simon and documents how television dramas of the 1980s 1990s and 2000s mirrored American culture with unprecedented sociological accuracy The author explains how both individuals are not only capable dramatists but also insightful cultural critics This book also examines the full range of Milch's and Simon's authorial careers including Milch's books True Blue The Real Stories behind NYPD Blue and Deadwood Tales of the Black Hills and Simon's Homicide A Year on the Killing Streets and The Corner A Year in the Life of an Inner City Neighborhood

Haunting Capital Hershini Bhana Young, 2006 In Haunting Capital Hershini Young sets out to re-theorize the African diaspora so that the concept becomes unintelligible without an understanding of gender as a constitutive element Young uses the historically injured bodies of black women as represented in novels by black women to talk about colonialism gender race memory and haunting Haunting Capital departs from traditional trauma studies which stress individual wounding and psychotherapeutic models Instead Young explores the notion of injury as a collective wounding resulting from the trauma of capitalistic regimes such as slavery and colonialism She also introduces the idea of the ghost to her discussion of collective injury where it functions not only on theoretical and metaphorical levels but also by invoking African cosmologies in which ghosts are ancestral beings with a real spiritual presence More specifically Young insists on the contemporary reality of African nations and eschews the presentation of Africa as a vague undifferentiated point of origin that characterizes many other studies of the African diaspora Her reading of African contemporary novels by women alongside African American and Caribbean novels works to show the African diaspora as haunted by similar though different issues of gendered and racialized violence
