Reimagining The Queen Volume Iii Plays And Play Shorts:

Reimagining Shakespeare for Children and Young Adults Naomi Miller, 2013-10-15 First published in 2003 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Shakespeare Survey: Volume 55, King Lear and Its Afterlife Peter Holland, 2002-10-24 Shakespeare Survey is a yearbook of Shakespeare studies and production Each volume is devoted to a theme or play or group of plays each also contains a section of reviews of criticism and performance For the first time numbers 1 50 are being reissued in paperback Shakespeare and Lost Plays David McInnis, 2021-03-25 Explores Shakespeare's plays in their most immediate context the hundreds of plays known to original audiences but lost to us

Alice's Wonderland Catherine Nichols, 2014-11-18 Presents a history of Alice's adventures in Wonderland discussing works that were inspired by Lewis Carroll's classic tale , Future History Kristina Bross, 2017 Future History analyzes English and American writings that imagine England on a global stage well before England became an empire or the United States became a global power Through close readings historical contextualization application of archival theory and careful speculation the work traces the ways that English and American writers imagined the East Indies and the West Indies as interconnected New York, 2003 Homosexualities in the English Theatre John Franceschina, 1997-11-30 Examines representations of homosexuality in the English theatre from the Renaissance to the close of the 19th century

The New Yorker Harold Wallace Ross, Katharine Sergeant Angell White, 1998-12 The Oxford Companion to Shakespeare , Shakespeare's Histories on Screen Jennie M. Votava, 2023-06-29 This volume reframes the critical conversation about Shakespeare's histories and national identity by bringing together two growing bodies of work early modern race scholarship and adaptation theory Theorizing a link between adaptation and intersectionality it demonstrates how over the past thirty years race has become a central and constitutive part of British and American screen adaptations of the English histories Available to expanding audiences via digital media platforms these adaptations interrogate the dialectic between Shakespeare's cultural capital and racial reckonings on both sides of the Atlantic and across time By engaging contemporary representations of race ethnicity gender sexuality disability and class adaptation not only creates artefacts that differ from their source texts but also facilitates the conditions in which race and its intersections in the plays become visible At the centre of this analysis stand two landmark 21st century history adaptations that use non traditional casting the British TV miniseries The Hollow Crown 2012 2016 and the American independent film H4 2012 an all Black Henry IV conflation In addition to demonstrating how the 21st century screen history illuminates both past and present constructions of embodied difference these works provide a lens for reassessing two history adaptations from Shakespeare's 1990s box office renaissance when actors of colour were first cast in cinematic versions of the plays As exemplified by these formal adaptations reappropriations of race in history non traditional Shakespearean casting practices are also currently shaping digital culture's conversations about race in non Shakespearean period dramas such as Bridgerton Sports Plays Eero

Laine, Broderick Chow, 2021-08-19 Sports Plays is a volume about sports in the theatre and what it means to stage sports. The chapters in this volume examine sports plays through a range of critical and theoretical approaches that highlight central concerns and questions both for sports and for theatre. The plays cut across boundaries and genres from Broadway style musicals to dramas to experimental and developmental work. The chapters examine and trouble the conventions of staging sports as they open possibilities for considering larger social and cultural issues and debates. This broad range of perspectives make the volume a compelling resource for students and scholars of sport theatre and performance studies whose interests span feminism, sexuality, politics and race. American Book Publishing Record, 2005 Canadian Periodical Index, 1995 Chicago, 2008 The Public Share Leslie S. Katz, 1992 Thomas King Eva Gruber, 2012

Thomas King is one of North America's foremost Native writers, best known for his novels including Green Grass Running Water for the Dreadful Water mysteries and for collections of short stories such as One Good Story That One and A Short History of Indians in Canada. But King is also a poet, a literary and cultural critic and a noted filmmaker, photographer and scriptwriter and performer for radio. His career and oeuvre have been validated by literary awards and by the inclusion of his writing in college and university curricula. Critical responses to King's work have been abundant yet most of this criticism consists of journal articles and to date only one book-length study of his work exists. Thomas King Works and Impact fills this gap by providing an up-to-date comprehensive overview of all major aspects of King's oeuvre as well as its reception and influence. It brings together expert scholars to discuss King's role in and impact on Native literature and its processes of canonization and to offer in-depth analyses of his multifaceted body of work. The volume will be of interest to students and scholars of literature, English and Native American studies and to King aficionados. Opera, Emotion, and the Antipodes Volume II Jane Davidson, Michael Halliwell, Stephanie Rocke, 2020-12-29 There can be little doubt that opera and emotion are inextricably linked. From dramatic plots driven by energetic producers and directors to the conflicts and triumphs experienced by all associated with opera's staging to the reactions and critiques of audience members, emotion is omnipresent in opera. Yet few contemplate the impact that the customary cultural practices of specific times and places have upon opera's ability to move emotions. Taking Australia as a case study, this two-volume collection of extended essays demonstrates that emotional experiences, discourses, displays and expressions do not share universal significance but are at least partly produced, defined and regulated by culture. Spanning approximately 170 years of opera production in Australia, the authors show how the emotions associated with the specific cultural context of a nation steeped in egalitarian aspirations and marked by increasing levels of multiculturalism have adjusted to changing cultural and social contexts across time. Volume I adopts an historical, predominantly nineteenth-century perspective while Volume II applies historical, musicological and ethnological approaches to discuss subsequent Australian operas and opera productions through to the twenty-first century. With final chapters pulling threads from the two volumes together, Opera, Emotion, and the Antipodes establishes a model for constructing emotion history from multiple disciplinary perspectives The Fashion of Film: How Cinema has Inspired Fashion Amber Butchart, 2016-09-08 From Amber Butchart host of BBC 4's A Stitch in Time Karl Lagerfeld drew inspiration from the dystopian vision of Metropolis The picture perfect worlds of Wes Anderson's films echo in Miuccia Prada's collections From historical epics and romantic dramas to sci fi blockbusters and arthouse cool the world's most creative fashion designers have long taken their inspiration from screen idols and continue to do so today Let fashion historian Amber Butchart take you a journey through the last 100 years of cinema style and its influence on the catwalks and see how the fashion of film has transformed the world of fashion design Sumptuously illustrated with photographs of fashion creations and the films that inspired them The Fashion of Film is a must have for any fan of style Race and Resistance in Boston
