

Laboratory Activity #1 — Student Laboratory Packet

Relationships and Biodiversity*A Laboratory Activity for the Living EnvironmentIntroduction

Botana curus is a valuable plant because it produces Curol, a compound used for treating certain kinds of cancer. Curol cannot be produced in the laboratory. Botana curus grows very slowly and is on the endangered species list, so its ability to provide Curol in large quantities is limited.

Species that are more closely related to Botana curus are more likely to produce the important substance Curol. Three similar plant species that are plentiful (X, Y, and Z) may be related to Botana curus. You will work as a researcher to:

- gather structural and molecular evidence to determine which plant species is most closely related to the hypothetical species, Botana curus
- use this evidence to decide which plant species is most likely to serve as a source of the important substance Curol

Safety

- You will need to wear goggles while conducting Tests 4 and 5.
- Do not eat or drink anything in the laboratory while doing this laboratory activity.

Important Note: Record all of your data and answers on these laboratory sheets. You will need to keep them for review before the Regents Examination. Later, you will need to transfer your answers to a separate Student Answer Packet. Your teacher will use the packet in grading your work, and the school will retain it as evidence of your completion of the laboratory requirement for the Living Environment Regents Examination.

Structural Evidence for Relationships

Perform the following tests and record your observations in Table 1 on page 8 of this packet. Use a hand lens or microscope as needed.

Test 1-Structural Characteristics of Plants

- Do not remove the plant samples from the plastic bags/cards.
- Compare the structural characteristics of the plant samples. Record your observations in Table 1 (see page 8).

Test 2-Structural Characteristics of Seeds

- Do not remove the seed samples from the plastic bags/cards.
- Compare the structural characteristics of the seed samples. Record your observations in Table 1.

"Relationships and Biodiversity" is a laboratory activity produced by the State Education Department for use in fulfilling part of the laboratory requirement for the Regents Examination in Living Environment. Reproducing any part of this laboratory activity by other than New York State school personnel is illegal.

Relationship And Biodiversity Lab Answer Key:

Nature's Tapestry: Uncovering the Beauty and Importance of Biodiversity Juan Armando Sánchez, 2023-10-09 We cannot separate human beings from biodiversity Our vital functions and our health are synergistic with other species The number of microorganisms we live with is greater than the total number of cells in our bodies So separation from biodiversity and its loss are the greatest threats to human survival and the current model for human development affects our very lives We must integrate marine and terrestrial life to understand our interdependence with biodiversity Colombia a megadiverse country with access to two oceans is the perfect canvas on which to illustrate this message nature has sustainable and straightforward solutions to society's emerging problems The new challenges of a changing environment raise increasingly relevant questions that we must address to prosper as individuals and as a society Can we prevent a new pandemic of viral origin How will we feed a constantly growing population How will the extinction of biological species affect us Do we function the same as all other living beings Are our bodies entire ecosystems for other species Is there a better model for economic development This book presents an approach to these discussions based on Colombia's biodiversity to uncover biodiversity's beauty and importance our nature's tapestry What we have here is an opportunity that we cannot miss Laboratory Manual for Introductory Biology Carl S. Lieb, Jerry D. Johnson, Lillian F. Mayberry, Reuven Lazarowitz, 2002-06 Field and Laboratory Investigations in Agroecology Stephen R. Gliessman, 2007 Agroecology is defined as the application of ecological concepts and principles to the design and management of sustainable food systems Offering step by step guidance for structured investigation Field and Laboratory Investigations in Agroecology Second Edition reviews ecological concepts and principles in an agricultural setting and provides in depth practical experience From background information to procedures and suggestions for writing up the results the book covers 24 different agroecological investigations each designed to provide all the information needed to plan and execute experimental or comparative studies It deals with how an individual plant responds to the environment how environmental factors are measured and characterized and how environmental factors affect individual plants The manual investigates how populations of organisms act in agroecosystems focuses on the level of the community and explores the between species interactions of the organisms that make up crop communities Examining whole farms or systems within farm boundaries investigations touch on the complexity with which farmers manage agroecosystems In the last section the book addresses components of the food system at a local level Comprising both basic and complex topics Field and Laboratory Investigations in Agroecology Second Edition presents a broad scope of issues relevant to agroecology today This edition facilitates hands on experiential learning that involves close observation creative interpretation and constant questioning of findings Greening Aid? Robert L.
