Pearson The Constitution:

Pearson Norman Hillmer,1999-07-08 In this collection of essays marking the centenary of Pearson's birth eighteen leading academics journalists public servants and politicians recreate and reassess Pearson's premiership from 1963 to 1968 Robert Bothwell Toronto introduces Pearson the man and Denis Stairs Dalhousie presents his political ideas Governor General award winning author and journalist Christina McCall and J L Granatstein Canadian Institute of International Affairs compare Pearson and his nemesis John Diefenbaker Stephen Azzi House of Commons and Greg Donaghy Department of Foreign Affairs write respectively about the prime minister's relations with Walter Gordon and Paul Martin Sr Tom Kent Queen's and Penny Bryden Mount Allison discuss the Pearson welfare state while Claude Ryan editor of Le Devoir in the 1960s and Michael Behiels Ottawa debate national unity Patrick Brennan Calgary looks at the media Monique Babin Ottawa Andrew Cohen Globe and Mail Blair Neatby Carleton and former public servants Ross Campbell Al Johnson Geoffrey Pearson and Gordon Robertson gauge the scope of Pearson's legacy The collection also includes an introduction by the editor and a foreword by Prime Minister Jean Chrétien

Treaties and Executive Agreements United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary,1952 Considers constitutional amendment to restrict Presidential authority to enter into international treaties and executive agreements

Multiculturalism and the Canadian Constitution Stephen J. Tierney,2011-11-01 Together the strands of Canada's diversity tell a complex story of pluralism consolidated through a long and incremental period of constitution building This book brings together scholars of cultural diversity to address key components of the changing Canadian story the evolution over time of multiculturalism within Canadian constitutional law and policy the territorial dimension of Canadian federalism and the role of constitutional interpretation by the courts in the development of Canada as a multicultural state The essays illustrate how deeply multiculturalism is woven into the fabric of the Canadian constitution and the everyday lives of Canadians

The Constitution and the New Deal G. Edward White,2002-05-15 In a powerful new narrative G Edward White challenges the reigning understanding of twentieth century Supreme Court decisions particularly in the New Deal period He does this by rejecting such misleading characterizations as liberal conservative and reactionary and by reexamining several key topics in constitutional law Through a close reading of sources and analysis of the minds and sensibilities of a wide array of justices including Holmes Brandeis Sutherland Butler Van Devanter and McReynolds White rediscovers the world of early twentieth century constitutional law and jurisprudence He provides a counter story to that of the triumphalist New Dealers The deep conflicts over constitutional ideas that took place in the first half of the twentieth century are sensitively recovered and the morality play of good liberals vs muckrakers is replaced This is the only thoroughly researched and fully realized history of the constitutional thought and practice of all the Supreme Court justices during the turbulent period that made America modern

Conservatives and the Constitution Ken I. Kersch,2019-03-28 Recovers a contested evolving tradition of conservative constitutional argument that shaped the past and is bidding to make the future Pearson's Magazine ,1911 Vol 49 no 9 Sept 1922 accompanied by a separately paged section entitled ERA electronic reactions of Abrams Nuclear Science Abstracts ,1966 Decisions and Orders of the National Labor Relations Board United States. National Labor Relations Board,2001 Making Catfish Bait Out of Government Boys Claire Strom,2010 This first full length study of the cattle tick eradication program in the United States offers a new perspective on the fate of the yeomanry in the twentieth century South during a period when state and federal governments were both increasing and centralizing their authority As Claire Strom relates the power struggles that complicated efforts to wipe out the Boophilus tick she explains the motivations and concerns of each group involved including large and small scale cattle farmers scientists and officials at all levels of government In the remote rural South such as the piney woods of south Georgia and north Florida resistance to mandatory treatment of cattle was unusually strong and sometimes violent Cattle often ranged free and their owners raised them mostly for local use rather than faraway markets Cattle farmers in such areas shows Strom perceived a double threat in tick eradication mandates In addition to their added costs eradication schemes with their top down imposition of government expertise were anathema to the yeomanry's notions of liberty Strom contextualizes her southern focus within the national scale of the cattle industry discussing for instance the contentious place of cattle drives in American agricultural history Because Mexico was the primary source of potential tick reinfestation Strom examines the political and environmental history of the Rio Grande giving the book a transnational perspective Debates about the political and economic culture of small farmers have tended to focus on earlier periods in American history Here Strom shows that pockets of yeoman culture survived into the twentieth century and that these communities had the power to block if only temporarily the expansion of the American state Treaties and Executive Agreements United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Constitutional Amendments,1953 Considers proposed constitutional amendments to require all treaties and executive agreements to adhere to constitutional law and to prohibit treaties abdicating U S sovereignty over its citizens or territories A First Nations Voice in the Australian Constitution Shireen Morris,2020-08-06 Based on author's thesis doctoral Monash University 2017 issued under title Recognition through representation the case for an Indigenous representative body in the Constitution Heroes to Hostages Firoozeh Kashani-Sabet,2023-08-24 It is easy to forget given the oppositional dynamic between Iran and the United States of the last 50 years that these two countries once shared productive partnership Tracing US Iran relations over two turbulent centuries Firoozeh Kashani Sabet considers when and how this relationship went awry With careful attention to social and cultural as well as diplomatic developments Kashani Sabet shows that the rift did not originate in flashpoints of crisis like the 1953 coup or the 1979 Islamic Revolution but was instead long in the making Drawing from a wealth of English and Persian language sources many of which were previously unavailable or unacknowledged this book considers the relationship from the vantage point of Iranian society and the experiences of an evolving Iran that strived to accommodate American and great power politics Following these two nations through wars decolonization and revolution Kashani Sabet presents an invaluable history of a diplomatic rivalry that informs geopolitics to this day Congressional Record United States. Modern Constitutions Rogers M. Smith,Richard R. Beeman,2020-08-14 More than two millennia ago Aristotle is said to have compiled a collection of ancient constitutions that informed his studies of politics For Aristotle constitutions largely distilled and described the varied and distinctive patterns of political life established over time What constitutionalism has come to mean in the modern era on the other hand originates chiefly in the late eighteenth century and primarily with the U S Constitution written in 1787 and made effective in 1789 and the various French constitutions that first appeared in 1791 In the last half century more than 130 nations have adopted new constitutions half of those within the last twenty years These new constitutions are devoted to many of the same goals found in the U S Constitution the rule of law representative self government and protection of rights But by canvassing constitutional developments at the national and state level in the United States alongside modern constitutions in Eastern and Western Europe Africa and Asia the contributors to Modern Constitutions all leading scholars of constitutionalism show that modern constitutions often seek to protect social rights and to establish representative institutions forms of federalism and courts charged with constitutional review that depart from or go far beyond the seminal U S example Partly because of their innovations however many modern constitutional systems now confront mounting authoritarian pressures that put fundamental commitments to the rule of law in jeopardy The contributions in this volume collectively provide a measure of guidance for the challenges and prospects of modern constitutions in the rapidly changing political world of the twenty first century Contributors Richard R Beeman Valerie Bunce Tom Ginsburg Heinz Klug David S Law Sanford Levinson Jaime Lluch Christopher McCrudden Kim Lane Scheppelle Rogers M Smith Mila Versteeg Emily Zackin
