Spring Break 2015 California Schools:

The Journey Before Us Laura Nichols, 2020-01-17 More students are enrolling in college than ever before in U S history Yet many never graduate In The Journey Before Us Laura Nichols examines why this is by sharing the experiences of aspiring first generation college students as they move from middle school to young adulthood By following the educational trajectories and transitions of Latinx mainly second generation immigrant students and analyzing national data Nichols explores the different paths that students take and the factors that make a difference The interconnected role of schools neighborhoods policy employment advocates identity social class and family reveal what must change to address the college completion crisis Appropriate for anyone wanting to understand their own educational journey as well as students teachers counselors school administrators scholars and policymakers The Journey Before Us outlines what is needed so that education can once again be a means of social mobility for those who would be the first in their families to graduate from college Communities in Action National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Health and Medicine Division, Board on Population Health and Public Health Practice, Committee on Community-Based Solutions to Promote Health Equity in the United States, 2017-04-27 In the United States some populations suffer from far greater disparities in health than others Those disparities are caused not only by fundamental differences in health status across segments of the population but also because of inequities in factors that impact health status so called determinants of health Only part of an individual s health status depends on his or her behavior and choice community wide problems like poverty unemployment poor education inadequate housing poor public transportation interpersonal violence and decaying neighborhoods also contribute to health inequities as well as the historic and ongoing interplay of structures policies and norms that shape lives When these factors are not optimal in a community it does not mean they are intractable such inequities can be mitigated by social policies that can shape health in powerful ways Communities in Action Pathways to Health Equity seeks to delineate the causes of and the solutions to health inequities in the United States This report focuses on what communities can do to promote health equity what actions are needed by the many and varied stakeholders that are part of communities or support them as well as the root causes and structural barriers that need to be overcome Promoting Inclusion in Education Abroad Nick J.

Gozik, Heather Barclay Hamir, 2023-07-03 Co published with While education abroad including studying volunteering researching and interning abroad is increasingly emphasized as a critical factor in preparing undergraduates for a globally interconnected world diversifying the pool of participants in such activities has proven challenging Framed within the concept of inclusive excellence with the objective of promoting diversity inclusion and equity in higher education as foundational to educational excellence the contributors present research and practices that have been proven successful in improving participation among groups of students traditionally underrepresented in education abroad Broader participation in education abroad programming has been a perennial concern at numerous higher education institutions in the U S having prompted countless discussions in professional organizations and across campuses among faculty staff and students Many have come to recognize that overseas opportunities are no longer a luxury and instead are a necessity for job seekers entering a more diverse globally interconnected workplace The volume offers a combination of research based chapters and case studies from leading experts on the barriers that disproportionately impact specific groups of students including students with disabilities first generation college students undocumented students racial and ethnic minorities science technology engineering and mathematics STEM majors and males The authors illuminate the issues which may inhibit education abroad participation from individual to institutional and present strategies reflecting a broad range of institutional contexts resources and needs While there has been significant discussion and action to promote broader inclusion in education abroad this is the first volume focusing on research and practice to achieve these ends and is intended as a critical resource for practitioners and scholars alike

The Nordic, Baltic and Visegrád Small

Powers in Europe Hilmar Hilmarsson, 2023-03-10 This volume addresses and seeks to answer a number of questions on the current issues facing small states powers in Europe How can small European states survive and prosper within a multipolar world of great powers What part should small states take in European integration Are EU fiscal and monetary policies allowing for Keynesian economic stimulus when needed and are euro area convergence criteria viable as the world recovers from the COVID 19 crisis Are small state alliances within the EU useful to counterbalance the influence of the larger EU member states How far should EU and NATO expansion go Should it include countries such as Ukraine Can the EU rely on US leadership of NATO for its security How should small states relate to great powers seeking to influence Europe most notably the US the People s Republic of China and the Russian Federation Do smaller states need to choose a single ally among the major powers Using an interdisciplinary approach the author discusses issues of economic policy international relations and politics economic and political integration as well as the effects of global and regional institutions and priorities in bilateral development cooperation demonstrating how policies are shaped by the interaction between small states small powers and large states great powers

Through the Fire - From Intake to Credential Cleveland Hayes, Kenneth J. Fasching-Varner, Hillary B. Eisworth, Kimberly White-Smith, 2018-09-24 By applying an auto ethnographic approach in this volume to share and explore the experiences of prospective teachers as they navigate the preparation and credentialing processes of teacher education we as those who have gone before the future educators in this text and those who will come behind them gain first hand insights from these young women and men about what it means and how to better prepare prospective educators to become a teacher against a backdrop of historical inequities in schooling and prepared for the multi culturally diverse classrooms of today Teacher educators school and community leaders and others committed to pushing toward more equitable social domains and forms of living and learning hence would do well to take up the opportunity provided in this text to learn from the narratives included in this volume and those of other teacher candidates indeed the narratives of teacher candidates herein and elsewhere are in part reflections of ourselves as teacher educators and evaluations of our work in teacher education and the professional preparation of those who will carry on our professions after us and for rising generations What we as teacher educators teach or think we are teaching in teacher preparation courses may or may not be what prospective teachers are learning about being a teacher and successful teaching and learning for all learners particularly those students historically underserved Each of the prospective educators who share their narratives in this volume are striving to become critical educators capable of promoting equitable educational and social opportunities outcomes and experiences for all learners While their journeys are each distinctive and unique to them personally the teacher candidates who share their narratives in this volume highlight some of the challenges and opportunities they have encountered in teacher preparation courses to learn about the functioning of social structures that sustain society s existing hierarchies and develop the skills and knowledge requisite to identify implement and assess critical learning strategies aimed at challenging inequities and promoting more inclusive forms of education Specifically these future teachers included in this volume are sharing with us their readers their attempts at learning to unhook from Whiteness and to disrupt the pernicious and historical school to prison pipeline that has long existed in the US between the nation s prison system and schools serving learners and their families and communities identified as racially not White economically poor and otherwise not members of the White middle class primary English speaking heterosexual patriarchal mainstream

Political Perversion Joshua Gunn, 2020-09-04 When Trump became president much of the country was repelled by what they saw as the vulgar spectacle of his ascent a perversion of the highest office in the land In his bold innovative book Political Perversion rhetorician Joshua Gunn argues that this mean spirited turn in American politics of which Trump is the paragon is best understood as a structural perversion in our common culture on a continuum with infantile and gotcha forms of entertainment meant to engender provocation and sadistic enjoyment Drawing on insights from critical theory media ecology and psychoanalysis Gunn argues that perverse rhetorics dominate not only the political sphere but also our daily interactions with others in person and online From sexting to campaign rhetoric Gunn advances a new way to interpret our contemporary political context that explains why so many of us have difficulty deciphering the appeal of aberrant public figures In this book Trump is only the tip of a sinister rapidly growing iceberg one to which we ourselves unwittingly contribute on a daily basis

Sick Schools David V. Anderson, 2020-01-10 Who's afraid of for-profit education Those who work in non-profit or government owned and operated schools Many parents and other stakeholders have been made fearful by this education establishment What's more important to humans: nutrition or education Nutrition is more important because it is the prerequisite for other human activities including education What organizations provide food and who pays for the food Food is provided by for-profit farmers for-profit processors for-profit wholesalers and for-profit retailers Most food is purchased with the consumer's own money but a significant amount is purchased by low-income individuals using food stamps Why can't education be provided similarly using education stamps We trust for-profit enterprises to provide our food Why can't we trust for-profit enterprises to provide K-12 education Fearmongers have frightened us and made us into gullible compliant socialists who despise commercial activities in education Go to the supermarket and ponder its marvelous array of foods and then contemplate how a for-profit K-12 education sector would please and amaze its customers
