

Flower Power

Sponge Bob loves to garden and wants to grow lots of pink flowers for his pal Sandy. He bought a special Flower Power fertilizer to see if will help plants produce more flowers. He plants two plants of the same size in separate containers with the same amount of potting soil. He places one plant in a sunny window and waters it every day with fertilized water. He places the other plant on a shelf in a closet and waters it with plain water every other day.

(1) What did Sponge Bob do wrong in this experiment? Explain.

Too many variables - Didn't put both in the same location and didn't water them both at the same times.

(2) What should Sponge Bob do to test the effectiveness of Flower Power fertilizer? Write an experiment. Include the following in your experimental design:

a.) Problem:

Will Flower Power fertilizer cause plants to produce more flowers?

b.) Hypothesis (as an if then statement)

I hypothesize if plants are given Flower Power fertilizer then they will produce more flowers because fertilizer contains nutrients for the plant.
