Newer methods, e.g., using blogs or Twitter feeds as secondary resources and using online focus groups, are discussed as extensions of traditional methods. The third section discusses sampling procedures, measurement methods, marketing scales, and questionnaires. Finally, a section on analyzing and reporting marketing research focuses on the fundamental data analysis skills that students will use in their marketing careers. Features of this text include Chapter Openers that describe the results of a research study that apply to the topics being presented in that chapter. These are taken from a variety of industries with a greater emphasis on social media and the Internet. A Global Concerns section appears in each chapter, helping prepare students to conduct market research on an international scale. This text emphasizes the presentation of research results and uses graphs, tables, and figures extensively. A Statistics Review section emphasizes the practical interpretation and application of statistical principles being reviewed in each chapter. A Continuing Case Study follows a group of students through the research process. It shows potential trade-offs, difficulties, and flaws that often occur during the implementation of a research project. End-of-Chapter Critical Thinking Exercises are applied in nature and emphasize key chapter concepts. These can be used as assignments to test students' understanding of marketing research results and how results can be applied to decision making.
