The Future of Christology Dong-Kun Kim,2019-06-28 The Future of Christology addresses the questions that Christology currently faces and or will face in the future in 12 topics The book consists of two parts In the first part Kim deals with five topics related to traditional Christology while in the second part he wrestles with seven topics related to issues of Christology The twenty first century is a challenging time for Christianity Many in our age are asking what Jesus Christ means in various dimensions of history culture nature and even beyond the Earth Changes in values worldviews and views of the universe are forming a new zeitgeist Dong Kun Kim argues that ways of understanding Christ should change accordingly for a Christology that fails to communicate meaningfully with the times is void of vitality Postmodernism dehistoricization and life post ideology multiculturalism multiple religions and above all the rapid development of the natural sciences pose a serious challenge to traditional Christology Who is Christ in the age of an infinite cosmos How do daily human life social devotion and praxis relate to salvation How can we discuss salvation history in an era post history Where does Christ stand in the public sphere Can the Chalcedonian definition of the two natures of Christ true God and true human being encompass nature and the cosmos would a third nature of Christ be necessary Will the cyborg which may appear in the near future be the object of Christ s salvation If scientific determinism becomes popular in the future will the basis of faith in Christ lose ground If intelligent life exists in the universe what does Christ mean to such life This book provides innovative answers to these questions in an academic context

Religious Language, Meaning, and Use Robert K. Bolger,Robert C. Coburn,2021-02-25 Can the meaning of religious language be separated from its use In Religious

Language Meaning and Use Robert Bolger and Robert Coburn address what has become a contentious though often overlooked account of the relationship between religious belief and religious practice Through philosophical argumentation and by means of a variety of sermon like essays on religious topics this book seeks to return religion to the place in which the meaning and practical impact of its beliefs become inseparable from the life of the believer Part I begins by considering through the loose lens of Wittgenstein s philosophical method how religious language has been misunderstood leading straightway to a variety of challenges and conceptual confusions Part II presents previously unpublished essays written by Robert C Coburn who has for over 50 years been at the forefront of the study of metaphysics and philosophy of religion Making a compelling case for a religious practice that avoids trivializing religious belief this book promises to be a corrective to those who see faith as nothing more than ethics in disguise and to those metaphysicians who see faith as a set of beliefs

A Phenomenology of the Devout Life George Pattison,2018-10-18 A Phenomenology of the Devout Life is the first part of a three part work A Philosophy of Christian Life Rather than approaching Christianity through its doctrinal statements as philosophers of religion have often done the book starts by offering a phenomenological description of the devout life as that is set out in the teaching of Francois de Sales and related authors This is because for most Christians practice and life commitments are more fundamental than formal doctrinal beliefs Although George Pattison will address the metaphysical truth claims of Christianity in Part three the guiding argument is that it is the Christian way of life that best reveals what these beliefs really are As the work is a philosophical study it does not presuppose the truth of Christianity but assumes only that there is a humanly accessible meaning to the intention to live a devout life pleasing to God This can be said to find expression in a certain view of selfhood that emphasizes the dimensions of feeling and will rather than intellect and that culminates in the experience of the annihilation of self This is a model of selfhood deeply opposed to contemporary models that privilege autonomous agency and the devout life is therefore presented as offering a corrective to extreme versions of the contemporary view Selfless Love and Human Flourishing in Paul Tillich and Iris Murdoch Julia T.

Meszaros,2016-03-03 In an age of self affirmation and self assertion selfless love can appear as a threat to the lover s personal well being This perception jars with the Biblical promise that we gain our life through losing it and therefore calls for a theological response In conversation with the Protestant theologian Paul Tillich and the atheistic moral philosopher and novelist Iris Murdoch Selfless Love and Human Flourishing in Paul Tillich and Iris Murdoch enquires into the anthropological grounds on which selfless love can be said to build up rather than undermine the lover s self It proposes that while the implausibility of selfless love was furthered by the modern deconstruction of the self both Tillich and Murdoch utilize this very deconstruction towards explicating and restoring the link between selfless love and human flourishing Julia T Meszaros shows that they use the modern diagnosis of the human being s lack of a stable and independent self as manifest in Sartre s existentialism in support of an understanding of the self as relational and fallen This leads them to view a loving orientation away from self and a surrender to the other as critical to the full flourishing of human selfhood In arguing that Tillich and Murdoch defend the link between selfless love and human flourishing through reference to the human being's ontological selflessness Meszaros closely engages Søren Kierkegaard's earlier attempt to keep selfless love and human flourishing in a productive dialectical tension She also examines the breakdown of this tension in the later figures of Anders Nygren Simone Weil and Jean Paul Sartre and addresses the pitfalls of this breakdown Her examination concludes by arguing that the link between selfless love and human flourishing would be strengthened by a more resolute endorsement of a personal God and of the reciprocal nature of selfless love

Emerging Voices in Science and Theology Bethany Sollereder, Alister McGrath, 2022-06-01 This volume engages with the relative absence and underrepresentation of female voices in the field of science and religion which tends to be dominated by male academics who are in the later stages of their careers It makes a valuable contribution to correcting this imbalance by showcasing the work of a talented set of rising female scholars which is not necessarily explicitly feminist in content or approach All the authors featured are at a relatively early stage in their careers with diverse backgrounds and interests Engaging with traditional and new questions they promise to contribute much to the future development of the field of science and religion

Hermeneutics John D. Caputo, 2018-01-25 Is anything ever not an interpretation Does interpretation go all the way down Is there such a thing as a pure fact that is interpretation free If not how are we supposed to know what to think and do These tantalizing questions are tackled by renowned American thinker John D Caputo in this wide reaching exploration of what the traditional term hermeneutics can mean in a postmodern twenty first century world As a contemporary of Derrida's and longstanding champion of rethinking the disciplines of theology and philosophy for decades Caputo has been forming alliances across disciplines and drawing in readers with his compelling approach to what he calls radical hermeneutics In this new introduction drawing upon a range of thinkers from Heidegger to the Parisian 1968ers and beyond he raises a series of probing questions about the challenges of life in the postmodern and maybe soon to be post human world

Specters of God John D. Caputo, 2022-10-04 In Specters of God John D Caputo returns to the original impulse of his work the mystical element in things here under the name of an anxious apophatics as distinct from an edifying apophatics anchored in unity with God In dialogue with Schelling a new turn for him and the lynchpin of this argument Caputo addresses the nocturnal powers in being the specters that haunt our being and bring us up short The result is an erudite and insightful analysis in his usual lively and masterful style of several key spectral figures from medieval angelology and Eckhart's Gottheit through Luther's deus absconditus and Schelling's Satanology to the spectralization and virtualization of the world in the posthuman age Arguing that the name of God is not the master name of a super being who is going to save us but a placeholder for sources deep in our apophatic imaginary he asks Has God become a holy ghost of the past A passing spectral effect of the ancient harmonies of the spheres Does radical thinking culminate in a cosmopoetics beyond theism and its theology in a doxology to the transient glory of the world whatever it was in the beginning however eerie its end world without why Cross and Cosmos John D. Caputo, 2019-07-23

The renowned theologian brings Luther and cosmology into dialogue with radical theological movements that have their point of departure in deconstruction George Pattison author of Eternal God Saving Time John D Caputo stretches his project as a radical theologian to new limits in this groundbreaking book Mapping out his summative theological position he identifies with Martin Luther to take on notions of the hidden god the theology of the cross confessional theology and natural theology Caputo also confronts the dark side of the cross with its correlation to lynching and racial and sexual discrimination Caputo is clear that he is not writing as any kind of orthodox Lutheran but is instead engaging with a radical view of theology cosmology and poetics of the cross Readers will recognize Caputo's signature themes hermeneutics deconstruction weakness and the call as well as his unique voice as he writes about moral life and our strivings for joy against contemporary society and politics This work will be eagerly awaited and immediately read by John D Caputo's many followers They will be looking for him to fill out the big picture which makes manifest for the first time all the parts and pieces he has contributed to the theological project he launched early in the previous decade Carl Raschke author of Postmodern Theology Caputo is always distinctive George Pattison author of Eternal God Saving Time

Images Kristine M. Whaley, 2024-03-27 This volume works through deconstructing traditional models of the imago Dei in search of a more inclusive understanding of the doctrine one that allows for literature to bring important questions to bear Brief analyses of Karl Barth and Paul Tillich and then growing dissatisfaction with the two in various liberation theologies brings to light the problems of a perfected image of God An exploration of four novels by Jean Rhys between 1928 and 1939 then follows the footsteps of Katie Cannon and others who include literature in their theological work The Rhys novels follow tragic stories of women who are wounded both by others and by their own inability to see themselves as worthy Through the questions these women ask about themselves and God the reconstruction of the imago Dei is set up This reconstruction centers trauma wounds and a non contrastive transcendence that Kathryn Tanner defines Ultimately it is not in how we are perfect but rather through our risks our wounds and even our grief that we connect to God State Voting Laws in

Kierkegaard and the Self Before God Simon D. Podmore, 2011-02 Simon D Podmore claims that becoming a self before God is both a divine gift and an anxious obligation Before we can know God or ourselves we must come to a moment of recognition How this comes to be as well as the terms of such acknowledgment are worked out in Podmore s powerful new reading of Kierkegaard As he gives full consideration to Kierkegaard s writings Podmore explores themes such as despair anxiety melancholy and spiritual trial and how they are broken by the triumph of faith forgiveness and the love of God He confronts the abyss between the self and the divine in order to understand how we can come to know ourselves in relation to a God who is apparently so wholly Other
