This sample essay on Child Observation Report provides important aspects of the issue and arguments for and against as well as the needed facts. Read on this essay's introduction, body paragraphs, and conclusion.

As a pupil societal worker, I was required to finish a Child observation over a period of six hebdomads. In order to fix I had to make up one's mind the kid and household I wanted to detect, on this juncture I decided I would detect a kid from a assorted race back land of age 0-12 months. The kid I observed was 12 months from a individual parent household and had three older siblings, the observation took topographic point at her place after I acquired consent from the female parent I started my undertaking. It was indispensable to understand what observation was and I determined that it is an informed manner of sing or looking at something that raises consciousness and increases apprehension.

At the start of the observation I felt really uncomfortable being in unfamiliar district, I felt that it was unjust for me to subject this household to my ain values, rules and bias. Although I felt that my chosen environment in which to detect was the right one, I had great concerns of my deficiency of experience and how the household would react to me as an foreigner in their lives. I was besides really dying about how this procedure would impact me as a parent and my parenting accomplishments or deficiency of it was an intense minute. I questioned whether my function as an perceiver was truly necessary but I had to acquire apprehension of what observation was and meant to me. Trevithick ( 2012, pg: 169 ) stated "œ that we learn a batch by detecting others and as such learn what is being transmitted through tone of voice, volume, modulation, position and gestures. "œ

Parent Child Observation Report

As I observed the kid I realised that I learnt a great trade non merely as an perceiver but as a female parent and contemplation on my ain childhood, upbringing and old occupation function. There was a great trade of idea about the emotional impact of the observation on myself as the perceiver. First I learnt the importance of observation, I realised that it was really indispensable to watch and listen than to talk because a great trade is achieved by watching, listening and being soundless. Baldwin ( 1994, pg 83 ) stated through observation one is "œ hearing and valuing the voice of the ascertained "œ , and I believed that without words being said there was a connexion between the kid and I. ( ability to stay degage to suspend opinion and chorus from engagement, being cognizant of feelings and attitudes evoked, non originating interaction, Precise entering which distinguishes what really happened from what reading.

Second I learnt that observation is a accomplishment that is learnt and acquired with preparation and pattern. Before this undertaking as a household support worker I was required to detect peop

Parental Psychiatric Disorder Michael Göpfert, Jeni Webster, Mary V. Seeman, 2004-05-13 A unique and innovative approach to family issues in psychiatric disorders The authors tackle a broad range of complex issues that are rarely covered in the depth or with the expertise that this volume brings This book is a major contribution to the field and provides the kind of international perspective that enhances our understanding of the complex dimensions of psychiatric disorders from a multigenerational and cross cultural perspective From a review of the first edition by Carol Nadelson Professor of Psychiatry Harvard Medical School It is indisputable that mental illness in a parent has serious and often adverse effects on the child something which is surprisingly unreflected in clinical service provision In this completely rewritten second edition an international multidisciplinary team of professionals review the most up to date treatment interventions from a practical clinical point of view It is essential reading for all professionals dealing with adult mental illness and child care

Parent—Child Interaction Therapy Toni L. Hembree-Kigin, Cheryl Bodiford McNeil, 2013-06-29 The development and evaluation of Parent Child Interaction Therapy PCIT has been a very rewarding aspect of my academic career and I am excited to see the program detailed in this excellent clinical guide PCIT is a short term intervention with documented effectiveness that has much to offer mental health professionals who work with young behaviorally disordered children After approximately 12 therapy hours improvements can be seen in parenting stress levels parent child interactional patterns parenting skills child disruptiveness and child compliance Yet prior to the publication of this practitioner guide book relatively few child therapists have had exposure to this innovative treatment approach The development of PCIT began in the early 1970s I had recently completed a doctoral program focusing on behavioral parent training procedures and a postdoctoral experience emphasizing traditional play therapy approaches with children Despite the wide theoretical gap between these two orientations I recognized that each had valuable therapeutic elements that could contribute to an overall treatment package It became an exciting challenge to integrate traditional and behavioral concerns I was particularly interested in developing a child behavior modification program with strong relationship based components The work of my colleague Constance Hanf had a direct influence on the development of PCIT Hanf outlined a two stage operant model for modifying the noncompliant behavior of young children The first stage emphasized following the child s lead and using differential attention during play sessions

Parents and Toddlers in Groups Marie Zaphiriou Woods, Inge-Martine Pretorius, 2013-05-13 This book explores how psychoanalytic principles can be applied when working with parents and toddlers in groups Illustrated with lively observations it discusses how these parent toddler groups can be an effective medium for early intervention during a period which is critical for the negotiation of a child s central emotional issues Parents and Toddlers in Groups demonstrates the particular challenges of the toddler phase and its contribution to an individual s future development and relationships Focusing on an approach developed by the Anna Freud Centre and comprising chapters from a range of expert contributors topics include the history theory and practice of parent toddler groups at the Anna Freud Centre how this approach has been adapted and applied across a wide range of settings and cultures the findings of research projects carried out on parent toddler groups This book will be a valuable resource for practitioners wanting to reach parents and young children in community educational and a variety of other settings It will also appeal to child psychotherapists and psychologists working in CAMHS teams Resources in Education ,2000-04
