Mixed Feelings Douglas Cairns, Pia Campeggiani, 2025-06-02 Affective valence typically refers to the way an affective state feels i.e. the quality of the displeasure we subjectively experience fear usually feels unpleasant while joy feels good Yet sometimes affective experience feels bittersweet i.e. good and bad at the same time as when we enjoy being scared on the roller coaster or being sad when reading a heart rending novel In these situations mixed affect is experienced as a blended state in which positive and negative aspects cannot be prised apart in any meaningful way But mixed affect can also arise from conflicting emotions e.g. when we desire something that we also wish to avoid from ambivalence e.g. when we are of two minds about something and more Taking a cross cultural and multidisciplinary perspective this volume aims to enrich our understanding of the phenomenology of mixed affective experiences It explores narrative representations of mixed emotions in historical and literary works in both Western and Eastern traditions as well as the theorization of such experiences in these traditions It will be of interest to students and scholars of literature especially classical Chinese Greek Indian and Latin history of emotions and philosophy The Wanderer R.
