Empires at War Robert Gerwarth, Erez Manela, 2014. Empires at War 1911-1923 offers a new perspective on the history of the Great War, looking at the war beyond the generally accepted 1914-1918 timeline and as a global war between empires rather than a European war between nation-states. The volume expands the story of the war both in time and space to include the violent conflicts that preceded and followed World War I, from the 1911 Italian invasion of Libya to the massive violence that followed the collapse of the Ottoman, Russian, and Austrian empires until 1923. It argues that the traditional focus on the period between August 1914 and November 1918 makes more sense for the victorious western front powers, notably Britain and France, than it does for much of central, eastern, and south-eastern Europe or for those colonial troops whose demobilization did not begin in November 1918. The paroxysm of 1914-18 has to be seen in the wider context of armed imperial conflict that began in 1911 and did not end until 1923. If we take the Great War seriously as a world war, we must a century after the event adopt a perspective that does justice more fully to the millions of imperial subjects called upon to defend their imperial governments' interest to theatres of war that lay far beyond Europe, including in Asia and Africa, and more generally to the wartime roles and experiences of innumerable peoples from outside the European continent. Empires at War also tells the story of the broad global mobilizations that saw African soldiers and Chinese labourers in the trenches of the Western front, Indian troops in Jerusalem, and the Japanese military occupying Chinese territory. Finally, the volume shows how the war set the stage for the collapse not only of specific empires but of the imperial world order. World War II Memoirs: The European Theater (LOA #385) Charles B. MacDonald, J. Glenn Gray, Mary Lee Settle, Elmer Bendiner, 2024-11-19. On the 80th anniversary of the war's end, 5 classic memoirs capture firsthand the shock, terror, and courage of the American fight against the Axis powers in Europe. The emotional environment of warfare has always been compelling, writes J. Glenn Gray in his incomparable World War II memoir and meditation, The Warriors. Reflection and calm reasoning are alien to it. The struggle to make sense of the experience of war, to find some meaning in the savagery and senseless destruction, animates the five brilliant and unforgettable memoirs gathered here.

Company Commander 1947 by Charles B. MacDonald describes with startling immediacy and candor the cold, dirty, rough, frightened, miserable life of the infantryman and company commander from the aftermath of D-Day in September 1944 through the war's terrifying final days.

The Warriors 1959 by J. Glenn Gray, a counterintelligence officer who served in Italy, France, and Germany, and a scholar with a PhD in philosophy, is a sensitive and revelatory meditation on the nature of war and its effects on both soldiers and civilians, interspersed with his letters, journals, and wartime memories.

All the Brave Promises 1966 is novelist Mary Lee Settle's memoir of her year as an airfield radio operator in the Royal Air Force. Settle brilliantly evokes both the working-class culture of the
