It is written in a daily journal and pictorial format that informs the reader about the places visited, with some history of those places, events that took place, as well as detailed descriptions of the wildlife encountered along the way, with a wide variety of color photographs. The story begins with an informative introduction which provides the reader the necessary background information so one can feel connected by establishing a solid understanding of what the story is about. Each lesson is organized in an accessible, easy-to-use format that includes an overview, a list of materials, a vocabulary list, and step-by-step teaching directions. Early Literacy in Preschool and Kindergarten Janice J. Beaty, Linda Pratt, 2003 For introductory courses in Early Childhood literacy. To answer the question of what reading and writing activities are best for young children, a well-known early childhood author has joined forces with a literacy expert to explore the development of literacy in the preschool environment and its ongoing support through kindergarten. The result is a pragmatic research-based text whose paradigm shift focuses future teachers on the use of cultural characters from picture books as the keys to an entire curriculum of literacy activities. Based on the latest theories of naturally emergent literacy, this text examines ways to create a literacy-friendly learning environment using music and art as natural languages and even strengthening finger muscles for writing through other hands-on activities.
