The past two decades have seen a growing interest in evolutionary and scientific approaches to religion. The Routledge Handbook of Evolutionary Approaches to Religion is an outstanding reference source to the key topics, problems and debates in this exciting and emerging field. Comprising over thirty chapters by a team of international contributors, the handbook pulls together scholarship in the following areas: evolutionary psychology and the cognitive science of religion; CSR; cultural evolution; the complementarity of evolutionary psychology, cognitive science and cultural evolution. Within these sections, central issues, debates and problems are examined, including: Cliodynamics; cultural group selection; costly signaling; dual inheritance theory; literacy; transmitting narratives; prosociality; supernatural punishment; cognition and ritual; meme theory; fusion theory; sexual selection; agency detection; evoked culture; social brain hypothesis; theory of mind; developmental psychology; emergence theory; social learning; cultural cybernetics; cultural epidemiology; evolutionary and cultural psychology; memetics; by-product and adaptationist theories of religion; systems and information theory; and computer modeling. This Handbook is essential reading for students and researchers in religious studies and anthropology. It will also be very useful to those in related fields such as psychology, sociology of religion, cognitive biology and evolutionary biology. Witnesses to Interwar Subcarpathian Rus' Patricia A. Krafcik, 2024-07-15

In the midst of a contentious atmosphere of the interwar period, the far eastern province of Subcarpathian Rus attracted the personal curiosity and professional attention of Russian ethnographer and theoretician Petr Bogatyrev and Czech journalist/writer Ivan Olbracht. Both traveled extensively in the region and immersed themselves deeply in the life and culture of the local residents: Carpatho-Rusyns and Hasidic Jews. Witnesses to Interwar Subcarpathian Rus: The Sojourns of Petr Bogatyrev and Ivan Olbracht explores for the first time in English the legacy they bequeathed in their respective work. Bogatyrev as an apolitical ethnographic collector and theoretician and Olbracht as a passionately committed Communist whose reports and brilliant stories from the region, including Nikola uhaj Brigand and The Sorrowful Eyes of Hannah Karadjic, capture a glimpse of a world destined to change radically as a result of the ravages of war. Contingent Lives Caroline H. Bledsoe, 2010-11-15

Most women in the West use contraceptives in order to avoid having children. But in rural Gambia and other parts of sub-Saharan Africa, many women use contraceptives for the opposite reason: to have as many children as possible. Using ethnographic and demographic data from a three-year study in rural Gambia, Contingent Lives explains this seemingly counterintuitive fact by juxtaposing two very different understandings of the life course: one is a linear Western model that equates aging and the ability to reproduce with the passage of time; the other is a Gambian model that views aging as contingent on the cumulative physical social and spiritual hardships of personal history especially obstetric trauma Viewing each of these two models from the perspective of the other Caroline Bledsoe produces fresh understandings of the classical anthropological subjects of reproduction time and aging as culturally shaped within women s conjugal lives Her insights will be welcomed by scholars of anthropology and demography as well as by those working in public health development studies gerontology and the history of medicine medical to the theological and from the literary to the historical The discourses on reproduction biology degeneration legacy and lineage that this book broaches not only bring to the forefront concepts of sexual identity and gender politics but also show how they were culturally constructed and reconstructed through the centuries by medicine philosophy the visual arts law religion and literature The contributors reflect on a wide range of topics from what makes men manly to the identity of Christ's father from what kinds of erotic practices went on among women in sixteenth century seraglios to how men's hemorrhoids can be variously labeled Essays scrutinize stories of menstruating males and early writings on the presumed inferiority of female bodily functions Others investigate a psychomorphology of the clitoris that challenges Freud's account of lesbianism as an infantile stage of sexual development and such topics as the geographical origins of medicine and the materialization of genealogy in the presence of Renaissance theatrical ghosts This collection will engage those in English comparative Italian Spanish and French studies as well as in history history of medicine and ancient and early modern religious studies Contributors Kevin Brownlee Marina Scordilis Brownlee Elizabeth Clark Valeria Finucci Dale Martin Gianna Pomata Maureen Quilligan Nancy Siraisi Peter Stallybrass Valerie Traub     Encyclopedia of Women & Islamic Cultures Suad Joseph, Afsāna Naǧmābādī, 2003 Family Body Sexuality and Health is Volume III of the Encyclopedia of Women Islamic Cultures In almost 200 well written entries it covers the broad field of family body sexuality and health and Islamic cultures
