Protecting Human Security In Africa:

Promotion of Human Security in Africa Solomon A. Dersso, 2008 In Africa various conditions pose pervasive threats to human security Addressing these threats and promoting human security therefore constitute formidable challenges As the paradigmatic shift in the discourse on and practice of human security has led to a change in the normative emphasis from sovereignty and non intervention to responsibility and international humanitarian and human rights norms questions arise not only as to the relationship between human security and human rights but also as to the contribution of the human rights system in addressing human security threats and promoting human freedom What tools does the African human rights system have at its disposal that can be used in the promotion of human security on the continent What are the roles of the African Commission and the AHRC in this regard What are the potentials and the challenges How best can these human rights bodies be employed to optimise their contributions to addressing the pervasive human security threats and to promoting the well being of individuals and communities on the continent This monograph investigates these and similar issues including the basic one of the interface between human rights and human security exists on Canada's security policy in Africa and relations towards Africa's regional organizations. The literature on Canada's foreign policy in Africa to date has largely focused on development assistance. For the first time, Edward Akuffo combines historical and contemporary material on Canada's development and security policy while analyzing the linkage between these sets of foreign policy practices on the African continent. The book makes an important contribution to the debate on Canada's foreign policy generally and on Africa's approach to peace, security and development while shedding light on a new theoretical lens: non-imperial internationalism to understand Canada's foreign policy. The author captures an emerging trend of cooperation on peace, security and development between the Canadian government and African regional organizations in the twenty-first century. The resulting book is a valuable addition to the literature on African politics, new regionalisms, foreign policy, global governance and international development studies.

International Law and New Wars Christine Chinkin, Mary Kaldor, 2017-04-27 Examines the difficulties in applying international law to recent armed conflicts known as new wars.

The State of Africa 2010/11 G. Adar, K. Juma, 2010-11-01 The State of Africa series project was conceived by the Africa Institute of South Africa (AISA) during its 2003/2004 financial year for purposes of mapping out on a regular basis critical issue areas relating to intra and inter-African as well as extra-African relations. The first and second volumes of the series were published in 2004 and 2008 respectively. Volume 1: The State of Africa Thematic and Factual Review served as an exploratory piece and covered a broad range of issues relating to politics and governance, millennium development goals (MDGs), peace and conflict and regional development. Volume 2: The State of Africa Post-Conflict Reconstruction and Development focused thematically and examined from critical and comprehensive perspectives issues associated with post-conflict in Africa. The volume was grounded on the continent's quest for conflict prevention, management and resolution as a means of creating an enabling environment for the consolidation of democracy and reconstruction of societies affected by crisis in general and war in particular. This volume. Volume 3: Parameters and Legacies of Governance and Issue Areas takes a multi-pronged and multi-faceted approach to some of these issues by providing in-depth analysis of dynamics at national, regional, continental and international levels. The global transformation in the 1980s and 1990s, which witnessed the crumbling of the Soviet Union, the Warsaw Pact and opened a window of opportunities for East-West bipolar rapprochement, particularly between the United States and Russia, also had impact on Africa at the national, regional and continental levels. Focusing on conceptual units such as the state, indigenous organisations, regional and continental organisations as well as selected priority issues in particular, gender and empowerment, the global South and space science, the chapters in the book provide useful insights into the nature and impact of the transformation and its impact on the socio-economic and politico-security situation in Africa.

Gender, Violence, and Human Security Aili Mari Tripp, Myra Marx Ferree, Christina Ewig, 2013-11-15 A powerful argument successfully challenges both security to address gender and feminist analysis to address security. Sylvia Walby, author of New Agendas for Women.

Akwasi Asabere-Ameyaw, Jophus Anamuah-Mensah, George Sefa Dei, Kolawole Raheem, 2014-07-11 There is no term so heavily contested in social science literature nomenclature than Development This book brings Indigenous perspectives to African development It is argued that contrary to development as we know it not working a greater part of the problem is that conventional development approaches that work have in fact not truly been followed to the letter and hence the quagmire All this is ironic since everything we do about our world is development So how come there is difficult knowledge when it comes to learning from what we know i e what local peoples do and have done for centuries as a starting point to reconstructing and reframing development In getting our heads around this paradox we are tempted to ask more questions How do we as African scholars and researchers begin to develop home grown solutions to our problems How do we pioneer new analytical systems for understanding our communities and offer a pathway to genuine African development i e Indigenist African development see also Yankah 2004 How do we speak of Indigenist development mindful of global developments and entanglements around us Can we afford to pursue development still mired in a catch up scenario Are we in a race with the development world and where do we see this race ending or where do we define as the finishing line A Publication of the Centre for School and Community Science and Technology Studies SACOST University of Education Winneba Ghana

Mohammed VI in 1999 Morocco has deployed a new continental foreign policy The Kingdom aspires to be recognized as an emerging African power in its identity as well as in its space of projection In order to meet these ambitions the diplomatic apparatus is developing and modernizing while a singular role identity is emerging around the notion of the golden mean

This study presents on an empirical level the conditions of the elaboration and conduct of this Africa policy and analyzes on a theoretical level the evolution of the Moroccan role identity in the international system

The Palgrave Handbook of African Political Economy Samuel Ojo Oloruntoba, Toyin Falola, 2020-06-23 This handbook constitutes a specialist single compendium that analyses African political economy in its theoretical historical and policy dimensions It emphasizes the uniqueness of African political economy within a global capitalist system that is ever changing and complex Chapters in the book discuss how domestic and international political economic forces have shaped and continue to shape development outcomes on the continent Contributors also provoke new thinking on theories and policies to better position the continent s economy to be a critical global force The uniqueness of the handbook lies in linking theory and praxis with the past future and various dimensions of the political economy of Africa
