Rethinking Islamic Studies Carl W. Ernst, Richard C. Martin, 2012-11-27 A groundbreaking response to the challenges of interpreting Islamic religion in the post 9/11 and post Orientalist era Rethinking Islamic Studies upends scholarly roadblocks in post Orientalist discourse within contemporary Islamic studies and carves fresh inroads toward a robust new understanding of the discipline one that includes religious studies and other politically infused fields of inquiry Editors Carl W Ernst and Richard C Martin along with a distinguished group of scholars map the trajectory of the study of Islam and offer innovative approaches to the theoretical and methodological frameworks that have traditionally dominated the field In the volume's first section the contributors reexamine the underlying notions of modernity in the East and West and allow for the possibility of multiple and incongruent modernities This opens a discussion of fundamentalism as a manifestation of the tensions of modernity in Muslim cultures The second section addresses the volatile character of Islamic religious identity as expressed in religious and political movements at national and local levels In the third section contributors focus on Muslim communities in Asia and examine the formation of religious models and concepts as they appear in this region This study concludes with an afterword by accomplished Islamic studies scholar Bruce B Lawrence reflecting on the evolution of this post Orientalist approach to Islam and placing the volume within existing and emerging scholarship Rethinking Islamic Studies offers original perspectives for the discipline each utilizing the tools of modern academic inquiry to help illuminate contemporary incarnations of Islam for a growing audience of those invested in a sharper understanding of the Muslim world

,1970 Asian Perceptions of Gulf Security Li-Chen Sim,Jonathan Fulton,2022-11-28 Gulf stability is coming to play a larger role in the foreign policy calculus of many states but the evolving role of Asian powers is largely under represented in the International Relations literature This volume addresses this gap with a set of empirically rich theory driven case studies written by academics from or based in the countries in question The underlying assumption is not that Asian powers have already become important security actors in the Gulf but rather that they perceive the Gulf as a region of increasing strategic relevance How will leaders in these countries adjust to an evolving regional framework Will there be coordinated efforts to establish an Asian centered approach to Gulf stability or will Asian rivalries make the region a theater of competition Will US China tensions force alignment choices among Asian powers Will Asian states balance bandwagon hedge or adopt some other approach to their Gulf relationships These questions become even more important as the western boundaries of Asia increasingly come to incorporate the Middle East The book will appeal to scholars and students in the fields of International Relations Security Studies and International Political Economy as well as area specialists on the Gulf and those working on foreign policy issues on each of the Asian countries included Professionals in government and non government agencies will also find it very useful The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4 0 license Research in Education ,1970-05

The Arms Race in the Middle East Mohammad Eslami,Alena Vysotskaya Guedes Vieira,2023-07-28 This edited volume discusses security policy and strategic policymaking in the Middle East region Due to its unique geopolitical geoeconomic and geostrategic features the Middle East region has been confronted with challenging security issues Combined with a lack of an efficient regional security regime this has led to the formation of a full fledged arms race This book draws together contributions from international experts to address the factors that have been contributing to the ongoing formation of an arms race in the Middle East as well as the impact of this phenomenon on the regional and global security environment The book is organized in three sections The first section outlines the contemporary dynamics of the arms race in the Middle East by focusing on its most recent dynamics and their implications for regional and international security The second section conducts systematic analysis of case studies of country specific drivers of the arms race The third and final section examines the role of external actors in the arms race evaluating both the responses of regional actors to external interventions as well as the implications of the arms race for extra regional countries Canadian Books in Print ,2003 Sufism Lloyd V.
