Medicare Hospice Benefit Services

Requirement for a Face-to-Face Encounter between the Patient and the Hospice Physician or Nurse Practitioner (NP)

Medicare covers hospice services for individuals who elect to receive hospice care instead of other Medicare benefits for treatment of a terminal illness. To be eligible to begin hospice services, a patient's physician (if he or she has one) and the hospice medical director must certify that the patient's life expectancy is six months or less if the illness runs its normal course. A patient is eligible for two 90-day hospice benefit periods followed by an unlimited number of 60-day benefit periods; for the 2nd and for each additional benefit period a hospice physician must recertify that you continue to be eligible for hospice.

A recent change in the law adds a new requirement to qualify for Medicare hospice benefits for a 3rd or later benefit period. In order to encourage greater involvement of the physician in the care of a patient who has been on hospice service for a longer period of time, a patient who is expected to enter a third benefit period (180 days) or a subsequent 60-day benefit period must be seen in person (face to face) by a hospice physician or hospice nurse practitioner to gather information that supports the patient's continuing eligibility for hospice care. This requirement becomes effective for patients entering their 3rd or later benefit period on or after January 1, 2011.

If you are approaching your 3rd or later benefit period, you will be contacted by a staff member of _____ Hospice to arrange for a face-to-face meeting with a hospice physician or hospice nurse practitioner. This meeting must take place within 30 calendar days of you entering the 3rd or later hospice benefit period. While you may see your personal physician during that same time period for care, only a meeting between you and physician or hospice nurse practitioner connected with _____ Hospice will satisfy the new requirement.

This requirement is quite complex and in need of clarifications from Medicare. Here is a summary of the conditions that the new law establishes.

Improving Palliative Care for Cancer National Research

Council, Commission on Life Sciences, Institute of Medicine, National Cancer Policy Board, 2001-07-15 It is innately human to comfort and provide care to those suffering from cancer particularly those close to death Yet what seems self evident at an individual personal level has by and large not guided policy at the level of institutions in this country There is no argument that palliative care should be integrated into cancer care from diagnosis to death But significant barriers attitudinal behavioral economic educational and legal still limit access to care for a large proportion of those dying from cancer and in spite of tremendous scientific opportunities for medical progress against all the major symptoms associated with cancer and cancer death public research institutions have not responded In accepting a single minded focus on research toward cure we have inadvertently devalued the critical need to care for and support patients with advanced disease and their families This report builds on and takes forward an agenda set out by the 1997 IOM report Approaching Death Improving Care at the End of Life which came at a time when leaders in palliative care and related fields had already begun to air issues surrounding care of the dying That report identified significant gaps in knowledge about care at the end of life and the need for serious attention from biomedical social science and health services researchers Most importantly it recognized that the impediments to good care could be identified and potentially remedied The report itself catalyzed further public involvement in specific initiatives mostly pilot and demonstration projects and programs funded by the nonprofit foundation community which are now coming to fruition

The Dying Soul Mark Cobb, 2001-01-16 Holistic models of cancer and palliative care frequently refer to spirituality as an important element But what do we mean when we talk about spirituality and how do we provide spiritual care This book sets out an understanding of this complex domain describing how spirituality is experienced and expressed and looks at the impact of terminal illness The author argues that if we are to recognize spirituality as a significant aspect of living and dying then care providers must develop an interesting consistent and effective approach Therefore issues of training policy and practice all need to be addressed Spirituality is often represented as the fourth pillar of palliative care and yet it is often the least developed area in terms of both theory and practice Originating from the author's clinical and teaching experience this book aims to explore the concepts issues and practical implications of spirituality in care
