Sample School Report Cards:

The Writing Report Card, 1984-88 Arthur N. Applebee, 1990 Based on two national assessments of the writing proficiency of representative samples of students in grades 4 8 and 11 conducted during the school years ending in 1984 and 1988 this report assesses the informative persuasive and imaginative writing performance of the nation's students and tracks changes in performance over time The first three chapters of the report describe student performance on the informative persuasive and imaginative writing tasks included in the writing trend assessments based on the results of the primary trait and holistic analyses The fourth chapter summarizes trends in average task accomplishment for the nation and various demographic subpopulations In the fifth chapter trends in students grammar punctuation and spelling are discussed The sixth chapter discusses factors that appear to be related to writing performance such as students instructional experiences and home environment The report concludes that despite some progress on some tasks students writing performance across tasks remains low and has changed little across time The report also finds that the extent to which students at all grade levels value writing use it in their own lives and engage in writing process activities remains quite limited A procedural appendix and an appendix of data are attached RS New Developments in Pupil Report Cards ... National Education Association of the United States. Department of superintendence & research division, 1934 The Nation's Report Card, 2005 The purpose of Fourth Grade Students Reading Aloud NAEP 2002 Special Study of Oral Reading is to examine aspects of oral reading performance accuracy rate and fluency that cannot be observed from results of the main NAEP National Assessment of Educational Progress reading assessment The results provided here are intended to inform educators and researchers about these three aspects of fourth graders oral reading performance and how they relate to their overall reading ability as measured by the 2002 reading assessment Pg iii Report Cards Wade H. Morris, 2023-09-26 The definitive history of the report card Report cards represent more than just an account of academic standing and attendance The report card also serves as a tool of control and as a microcosm for the shifting power dynamics among teachers parents school administrators and students In Report Cards A Cultural History Wade H Morris tells the story of American education by examining the history of this unique element of student life In the nearly two hundred year evolution of the report card this relic of academic bookkeeping reflected broader trends in the United States the republican zealotry and religious fervor of the antebellum period the failed promises of postwar Reconstruction for the formerly enslaved the changing gender roles in newly urbanized cities the overreach of the Progressive child saving movement in the early twentieth century and by the 1930s the increasing faith in an academic meritocracy The use of report cards expanded with the growth of school bureaucracies becoming a tool through which administrators could surveil both student activity and teachers And by the late twentieth century even the most radical critics of numerical reporting of children have had to compromise their ideals Morris traces the evolution of how teachers students parents and administrators have historically responded to report cards From a western New York classroom teacher in the 1830s and a Georgia student in the 1870s who was born enslaved to a Colorado student incarcerated in the early 1900s and the son of Russian Jewish immigrants applying to college in the 1930s Report Cards describes how generations of people have struggled to maintain dignity within a system that reduces children to numbers on slips of paper

NAEP 1998 Reading Report Card for the Nation, 1999      The NAEP 1997 Arts Report Card Hilary R. Persky, Brent A. Sandene, Janice M. Askew, 1998

The last several years have seen a growing resolve among educators and policymakers to assure the place of a solid arts education in U S schools In 1997 the National Assessment of Educational Progress NAEP conducted a national assessment in the arts at grade 8 The assessment included the areas of music theater and visual arts For each of these arts areas this Report Card describes the achievement of eighth graders within the general population and in various subgroups Taken with the information provided about instructional and institutional variables this report gives a context for evaluating the status of students learning in the arts The arts assessment was designed to measure the content specifications described in the arts framework for NAEP The arts have a unique capacity to integrate intellect emotions and physical skills in the creation of meaning Meaningful arts assessments need to be built around three arts processes creating performing and responding To capture these processes the arts assessment exercises included authentic tasks that assessed students knowledge and skills and constructed response and multiple choice questions that explore students abilities to describe analyze interpret and evaluate works of art in written form Data are reported in overall summaries for creating performing and responding in terms of student and school reported background variables Student results for theater are discussed in terms of teacher reported background variables as well The major findings of the assessment are that a large percentage of grade 8 students attend schools in which music and visual arts were taught usually by specialists most students attended schools in which instruction following district or state curricula was offered in music and visual arts but not in theater or dance and most visual arts and music instruction took place in school facilities that were dedicated to that subject JH
