conspicuous outcomes of this process was the building or rebuilding of new court palaces erected as prestigious residences in accord with the new classical principles of Renaissance architecture. The novelties however went far beyond architectural forms; they involved the reorganisation of courtly interiors and their functions, new uses for the buildings and the relationship between the palaces and their surroundings. The whole urban setting was affected by these processes and therefore the social, residential and political customs of its inhabitants. This is the focus of A Renaissance Architecture of Power, which aims to analyse from a comparative perspective the evolution of Italian court palaces in the Renaissance in their entirety.
