Occupying Syria Under the French Mandate Daniel Neep, 2012-09-10 1 Rethinking colonial violence 2 The architecture of the colonial state 3 Political rationalities of violence 4 Time science and space 5 Rebel movements and the great revolt 6 Urban planning hygiene and counter insurgency 7 Nomad space securing the desert Age of Coexistence Ussama Makdisi, 2021-09-21 Flawless Makdisi reminds us of the critical declarations of secularism which existed in the history of the Middle East Robert Fisk The Independent Today's headlines paint the Middle East as a collection of war torn countries and extremist groups consumed by sectarian rage Ussama Makdisi's Age of Coexistence reveals a hidden and hopeful story that counters this clichéd portrayal It shows how a region rich with ethnic and religious diversity created a modern culture of coexistence amid Ottoman reformation European colonialism and the emergence of nationalism Moving from the nineteenth century to the present this groundbreaking book explores without denial or equivocation the politics of pluralism during the Ottoman Empire and in the post Ottoman Arab world Rather than judging the Arab world as a place of age old sectarian animosities Age of Coexistence describes the forging of a complex system of coexistence what Makdisi calls the ecumenical frame He argues that new forms of antisectarian politics and some of the most important examples of Muslim Christian political collaboration crystallized to make and define the modern Arab world Despite massive challenges and setbacks and despite the persistence of colonialism and authoritarianism this framework for coexistence has endured for nearly a century It is a reminder that religious diversity does not automatically lead to sectarianism Instead as Makdisi demonstrates people of different faiths but not necessarily of different political outlooks have consistently tried to build modern societies that transcend religious and sectarian differences Reconstruction as Violence in Assad's Syria Nasser Rabbat, Deen Sharp, 2025-08-19 A sustained critique of postwar reconstruction in Syria as a politically neutral process In 2011 emboldened by the Arab Spring the Syrians rose up against their government The Syrian regime used violence to suppress the protests so that what began as pro democracy protests eventually morphed into a civil war with heavy outside intervention Today the Assad regime has fallen but large parts of the country lie in ruins millions of Syrians are displaced and the economy is in freefall Reconstruction as Violence delves into the complex interplay of post conflict reconstruction in Syria challenging the traditionally held dichotomy between the end of violence and the commencement of rebuilding The contributors to this volume architects urbanists geographers and historians employ critical concepts such as urbicide domicile and civilian crisis architecture to argue against the conventional theoretical frameworks that support a neat separation of phases They illustrate how reconstruction often extends the dynamics of conflict into the urban and social realms suggesting that the built environment becomes a battleground for further violence They emphasize the importance of acknowledging the historical economic societal legal and bureaucratic contexts that shape reconstruction efforts arguing for initiatives that prioritize equity inclusivity and community participation Reconstruction as Violence starkly underscores the authors stance that to overlook any of these dimensions or to disengage from the reconstruction process altogether represents a political choice with potentially detrimental effects on Syria and beyond in the Arab world where countries like Palestine Yemen Libya Iraq Lebanon and Sudan are undergoing similar cycles of destruction and rebuilding It calls for a reimagined approach to reconstruction one that fosters peace resilience and social justice in post conflict societies Contributors Sawsan Abou Zainedin Madaniya London UK Ammar Azzouz University of Oxford UK Val rie Clerc Institut de Recherche pour le D veloppement France Emma Katherine DiNapoli human rights lawyer London UK Omar Ferwati Goldsmiths University of London UK Rim Lababidi architect and independent scholar Ohio USA Wendy Pullan University of Cambridge UK Nasser Rabbat Massachusetts Institute of Technology Cambridge MA USA Hashim Sarkis Massachusetts Institute of Technology Cambridge MA USA Deen Sharp London School of Economics UK Heghnar Watenpaugh University of California Davis CA USA

Syria and Lebanon Under the French Mandate Idir Ouahes,2018-07-30 French rule over Syria and Lebanon was premised on a vision of a special French protectorate established through centuries of cultural activity archaeological educational and charitable Initial French methods of organising and supervising cultural activity sought to embrace this vision and to implement it in the exploitation of antiquities the management and promotion of cultural heritage the organisation of education and the control of public opinion among the literate classes However an examination of the first five years of the League of Nations assigned mandate 1920 1925 reveals that French expectations of a protectorate were quickly dashed by widespread resistance to their cultural policies not simply among Arabists but also among minority groups initially expected to be loyal to the French The violence of imposing the mandate de facto starting with a landing of French troops in the Lebanese and Syrian coast in 1919 and followed by extension to the Syrian interior in 1920 was met by consistent violent revolt Examining the role of cultural institutions reveals less violent yet similarly consistent contestation of the French mandate The political discourses emerging after World War I fostered expectations of European tutelages that prepared local peoples for autonomy and independence Yet even among the most Francophile of stakeholders the unfolding of the first years of French rule brought forth entirely different events and methods In this book Idir Ouahes provides an in depth analysis of the shifts in discourses attitudes and activities unfolding in French and locally organised institutions such as schools museums and newspapers revealing how local resistance put pressure on cultural activity in the early years of the French mandate

Ottoman Refugees, 1878-1939 Isa Blumi, 2013-09-12 In the first half of the 20th century throughout the Balkans and Middle East a familiar story of destroyed communities forced to flee war or economic crisis unfolded Often these refugees of the Ottoman Empire Christians Muslims and Jews found their way to new continents forming an Ottoman diaspora that had a remarkable ability to reconstitute and even expand the ethnic religious and ideological diversity of their homelands Ottoman Refugees 1878 1939 offers a unique study of a transitional period in world history experienced through these refugees living in the Middle East the Americas South East Asia East Africa and Europe Isa Blumi explores the tensions emerging between those trying to preserve a world almost entirely destroyed by both the nation state and global capitalism and the agents of the so called Modern era

The Caliph and the Imam Toby Matthiesen, 2023-03-09 The authoritative account of Islam s schism that for centuries has shaped events in the Middle East and the Islamic world In 632 soon after the Prophet Muhammad died a struggle broke out among his followers as to who would succeed him Most Muslims argued that the leader of Islam should be elected by the community s elite and rule as Caliph They would later become the Sunnis Others who would become known as the Shia believed that Muhammad had designated his cousin and son in law Ali as his successor and that henceforth Ali s offspring should lead as Imams This dispute over who should guide Muslims the Caliph or the Imam marks the origin of the Sunni Shii split in Islam Toby Matthiesen explores this hugely significant division from its origins to the present day Moving chronologically his book sheds light on the many ways that it has shaped the Islamic world outlining how over the centuries Sunnism and Shiism became Islam s two main branches and how Muslim Empires embraced specific sectarian identities Focussing on connections between the Indian subcontinent and the Middle East it reveals how colonial rule and the modern state institutionalised sectarian divisions and at the same time led to pan Islamic resistance and Sunni and Shii revivalism It then focuses on the fall out from the 1979 revolution in Iran and the US led military intervention in Iraq As Matthiesen shows however though Sunnism and Shiism have had a long and antagonistic history most Muslims have led lives characterised by confessional ambiguity and peaceful co existence Tensions arise when sectarian identity becomes linked to politics Based on a synthesis of decades of scholarship in numerous languages The Caliph and the Imam will become the standard text for readers looking for a deeper understanding of contemporary sectarian conflict and its historical roots The Oxford Handbook of the Sociology of the Middle East Armando Salvatore, Sāri Ḥanafī, Kieko Obuse, 2022 The Oxford Handbook of the Sociology of the Middle East integrates the study of the social dynamics in the Middle East within history culture and politics The volume transcends a purely regional perspective to investigate the global nature of these dynamics and their impact on the life of people in the region It provides a comprehensive perspective in connecting the vexed state society relations in the region with movements of transformation and the affirmation of rights and creativity in the public arenas A Critical Political Economy of the Middle East and North Africa Joel Beinin, Bassam Haddad, Sherene Seikaly, 2020-12-22 This book offers the first critical engagement with the political economy of the Middle East and North Africa Challenging conventional wisdom on the origins and contemporary dynamics of capitalism in the region these cutting edge essays demonstrate how critical political economy can illuminate both historical and contemporary dynamics of the region and contribute to wider political economy debates from the vantage point of the Middle East Leading scholars representing several disciplines contribute both thematic and country specific analyses Their writings critically examine major issues in political economy notably the mutual constitution of states markets and classes the co constitution of class race gender and other forms of identity varying modes of capital accumulation and the legal political and cultural forms of their regulation relations among local national and global forms of capital class and culture technopolitics the role of war in the constitution of states and classes and practices and cultures of domination and resistance Visit politicaleconomyproject.org for additional media and learning resources

They All Made Peace—What Is Peace? Jonathan Conlin,Ozan Ozavci,2023-07-05 An analysis of the 1923 Treaty of Lausanne from multiple historical economic and social perspectives The last of the post World War One peace settlements the 1923 Treaty of Lausanne departed from methods used in the Treaty of Versailles and took on a new peace making initiative a forced population exchange that affected one and a half million people Like its German and Austro Hungarian allies the defeated Ottoman Empire had initially been presented with a dictated peace in 1920. In just two years however the Kemalist insurgency enabled Turkey to become the first sovereign state in the Middle East while the Greeks, Armenians, Arabs, Egyptians, Kurds and other communities previously under the Ottoman Empire sought their own forms of sovereignty. Featuring historical analysis from multiple perspectives, They All Made Peace: What Is Peace considers the Lausanne Treaty and its legacy. Chapters investigate British, Turkish and Soviet designs in the post-Ottoman world, situate the population exchanges relative to other peacemaking efforts and discuss the economic factors behind the reallocation of Ottoman debt and the management of refugee flows. Further chapters examine Kurdish, Arab, Iranian, Armenian and other communities that were refused formal accreditation at Lausanne but which were still forced to live with the consequences, consequences that are still emerging one hundred years on.
