Important remarks:

- The intention of this document is to provide guidelines to set up a manual compliant towards the EU regulation 290/2012 Part-ORA. The BCAA will no longer assess the manual in its entirety but will perform spot-checks on items where the most safety and/or compliance issues may arise. It is the ultimate responsibility of the ATO accountable manager with the help of the compliance manager to provide a fully compliant manual.
- It is also the intention to keep this document "alive", so if any item seems not to be clear enough or if any item should be added to this checklist, provide your comments with supporting documents to BCAA.ATO@mobilit.belgium.be.
- Be sure that you are working with the latest version of the document. Check the BCAA website at www.mobilit.belgium.be to get the latest revision.
- For the submission of a revision, only the relevant items impacted by the revision should be completed. To ease out the revision procedure, provide a pdf version of the manual with the changes highlighted and/or an abstract of the modifications.
- Part 2 Bk only concerns ATO operating FSTDs or FSTD operators.

The AS9100C, AS9110, and AS9120 Handbook James Culliton,2014-04-18 AS9100 AS9110 and AS9120 the quality management system QMS standards for the aerospace industry are written in the most ambiguous language possible Indeed they don t outline how they should be implemented Those decisions are left to the organization implementing their requirements or in some cases to a consultant Although some consultant firms for aerospace systems are excellent there are many that purport to be experts yet proffer systems and processes that are either in contravention to the standards requirements or so unwieldy that they render the process impotent In an effort to simplify these issues this book proposes practices that have been described as opportunities for improvement or best practices by registration auditors in the past It includes a discussion of each of the three standards clauses suggests best practices to comply with them outlines common findings associated with them and provides an overview of the changes to AS9100C from AS9100B Global Governance of Civil Aviation Safety Nilgun Ozgur, 2022-09-30 This book indicates the shortcomings of the current international legal system and customary international norms that govern international aviation law to comply with contemporary air transport market realities As the air transport market develops globally the safety regime of civil aviation should also be governed and applied globally In this book the author departs from current international legal norms to examine the emerging legal field of global administrative law Through that lens the possibility of reconstructing the set of legal mechanisms that govern domestic and international administrative interaction in the global field of aviation safety is explored This book demonstrates that a legal system is never complete but always develops in tandem with changing needs i e the participation of the affected parties Exploring the principles of GAL theory contributes to addressing the contemporary legal issues relating to state compliance with international aviation safety standards that would otherwise not be covered by customary international law In particular the principles of GAL theory regarding global governance and the public character of global regulations the role of individuals and states in global governance and state sovereignty are considered valuable contributions to contemporary global aviation safety issues in practice It is asserted in this book that proper checks and balances in global aviation safety can be improved by making these accessible to individuals by way of national courts Finally establishing public awareness of global aviation safety standards will eventually create greater pressure on states to implement and enforce them This book is in an area increasing academic and research interest of practitioners of public international aviation law global administrative law global governance and global aviation safety global air transport market regulations The Nonprofit Manager's Resource Directory Ronald A.
