contributors to the Encyclopedia of Leadership are leaders among the many thousands of scholars responsible for the health and vast breadth of leadership studies. They show us that leadership plays an important increasingly integral role today in fields ranging from world politics to community development. Bernard M. Bass, Distinguished Professor Emeritus, Center for Leadership Studies, School of Management, Binghamton University, and author of Transformational Leadership: Industrial, Military, and Educational Impact (1998) and Leadership and Performance beyond Expectations (1985). This new Encyclopedia provides leaders with the historical perspective and a vision of the tenuous future so essential if leaders of the future are to redefine leadership on their own terms with their own people. Frances Hesselbein, Chairman of the Board of Governors, Leader to Leader Institute, formerly the Drucker Foundation, and coeditor of On Creativity, Innovation, and Renewal: A Leader to Leader Guide (2002) and Leading Beyond the Walls (1999). From the earliest times, people have been entranced by stories about leaders: about Greek city-state rulers, Roman consuls, Chinese emperors, religious potentates, military conquerors, and politicians. Perhaps more importantly, leadership is a challenge and an opportunity facing millions of people in their professional and personal lives. The Encyclopedia of Leadership brings together for the first time everything that is known and truly matters about leadership as part of the human experience. Developed by the award-winning editorial team at Berkshire Publishing Group, the Encyclopedia includes hundreds of articles written by 280 leading scholars and experts from 17 countries exploring leadership theories and leadership practice. Entries and sidebars show leadership in action in corporations and state houses, schools, churches, small businesses, and nonprofit organizations. Questions the Encyclopedia of Leadership will answer: What is a leader? What is a great leader? How does someone become a leader? What are the types of leadership? How can leadership theories help us understand contemporary situations? How can I be a good and maybe great leader? The Encyclopedia of Leadership is an unprecedented learning resource. Scholars, students, professionals, and active citizens will turn to the Encyclopedia for guidance on the theory and practice of leadership, for the stories of great leaders, and for the tools and knowledge they need to lead in the 21st century.

Key Features: Four volumes, 400 substantive articles ranging in length from 1,000 to 6,000 words, 200 photographs and other illustrations, 250 sidebars drawn from public records, newspaper accounts, memoirs, and ethnography.

Key Themes: Biographies, Case studies, Followers and followership, Gender issues, Leadership in different disciplines, Leadership in different domains, Leadership styles, Personality characteristics, Situational factors, Theories and concepts.

The Encyclopedia of Leadership will be a vital tool for librarians with collections in business management, history, politics, communication, psychology, and a host of other disciplines. Students and teachers in courses ranging from history to psychology, anthropology, and law will also find this an invaluable reference. In addition, there are nearly 900 leadership programs in American post-secondary institutions, and a growing number of efforts to develop leadership in high schools. There are leadership studies majors and minors, as well as certificate and Ph.D. programs in the United States, Belgium, U.K., Japan, and elsewhere.

A People's Curriculum for the Earth Bill Bigelow, Tim Swinehart, 2014-11-14 A People's Curriculum for the Earth is a collection of articles, role plays, simulations, stories, poems, and graphics to help breathe life into teaching about the environmental crisis. The book features some of the best articles from Rethinking Schools magazine alongside classroom-friendly readings on climate change, energy, water, food, and pollution, as well as on people who are working to make things better. A People's Curriculum for the Earth has the breadth and depth of Rethinking Globalization: Teaching for Justice in an Unjust World, one of the most popular books we've published. At a time when it's becoming increasingly obvious that life on Earth is at risk, here is a resource that helps students see what's wrong and imagine solutions. Praise for A People's Curriculum for the Earth: To really confront the climate crisis, we need to think differently, build differently, and teach differently. A People's Curriculum for the Earth is an educator's toolkit for our times. Naomi Klein, author of The Shock Doctrine and This Changes Everything: Capitalism vs. the Climate. This volume is a marvelous example of justice in ALL facets of our lives: civil, social, educational, economic, and yes, environmental. Bravo to the Rethinking Schools team for pulling this collection together and making us think more holistically about what we mean when we talk about justice. Gloria Ladson-Billings, Kellner Family Chair in Urban Education, University of Wisconsin-Madison. Bigelow and Swinehart have created a critical resource for today's young people about humanity's responsibility for the Earth. This book can engender the shift in perspective so needed at this point on the clock of the universe. Gregory Smith, Professor of Education, Lewis Clark College, co-author with David Sobel of Place and Community-based Education in Schools.
