Department for Communities and Local Government Great Britain. National Audit Office,2008 Housing developments require the approval of planning applications by the 368 local planning authorities in England before they can proceed The Department for Communities and Local Government has given local authorities approximately 68 million a year to improve the handling of planning applications and in particular to speed them up Measures taken include national targets payment of Planning Delivery Grant initiatives to build public sector planning capacity initiatives to improve the development management process While authorities are taking more decisions on major housing schemes within 13 weeks the true extent of the improvement across the development process is not as clear as it could be The combination of the extra grant and the setting by the Department of targets has encouraged local authorities to give a higher priority to taking speedier decisions The Department s figures on processing planning applications for large housing developments show a significant improvement with 67 per cent of decisions being reached in 13 weeks in 2007 08 up from 37 per cent in 2002 03 But the extent of improvement across the development process is less clear because the Department s performance measure excludes the time spent before an application s submission and after its subsequent approval both of which can be substantial The Department does not collect data on how long it took to reach these decisions The National Audit Office found that for the 11 authorities visited decisions to reject were taken more quickly than those to approve with approval taking on average 25 weeks for the 100 cases examined from 2006 07

African Handbook of Climate Change Adaptation Nicholas Oguge, Desalegn Ayal, Lydia Adeleke, Izael da Silva, 2021-05-20 This open access book discusses current thinking and presents the main issues and challenges associated with climate change in Africa It introduces evidences from studies and projects which show how climate change adaptation is being and may continue to be successfully implemented in African countries Thanks to its scope and wide range of themes surrounding climate change the ambition is that this book will be a lead publication on the topic which may be regularly updated and hence capture further works Climate change is a major global challenge However some geographical regions are more severely affected than others One of these regions is the African continent Due to a combination of unfavourable socio economic and meteorological conditions African countries are particularly vulnerable to climate change and its impacts The recently released IPCC special report Global Warming of 1.5°C outlines the fact that keeping global warming by the level of 1.5°C is possible but also suggested that an increase by 2.0°C could lead to crises with crops agriculture fed by rain could drop by 50% in some African countries by 2020 and livestock production could damage water supplies and pose an additional threat to coastal areas The 5th Assessment Report produced by IPCC predicts that wheat may disappear from Africa by 2080 and that maize a staple will fall significantly in southern Africa. Also arid and semi arid lands are likely to increase by up to 8% with severe ramifications for livelihoods poverty eradication and meeting the SDGs. Pursuing appropriate adaptation strategies is thus vital in order to address the current and future challenges posed by a changing climate. It is against this background that the African Handbook of Climate Change Adaptation is being published. It contains papers prepared by scholars representatives from social movements practitioners and members of governmental agencies undertaking research and or executing climate change projects in Africa and working with communities across the African continent. Encompassing over 100 contributions from across Africa it is the most comprehensive publication on climate change adaptation in Africa ever produced.

Knowledge Mobilisation and Social Sciences Jon Bannister, Irene Hardill, 2016-03-17. The essays presented in this volume examine knowledge mobilisation and its relation to research impact and engagement. The social sciences matter because they can help us to understand and address the complex challenges confronting society. This is particularly true in an era of significant downward pressure on public expenditure, a consequence of the global fiscal crisis when there is a striking need to ensure that policies are demonstrably effective and efficient. The impact agenda in the UK reflected in parallel global debates actively encourages the social sciences to make and demonstrate a difference to justify and protect social science funding. This volume shows how knowledge mobilisation can be thought of systematically as a process encompassing engagement leading to the co-production and channelling of knowledge to make a difference in the economy and society. This book was originally published as a special issue of Contemporary Social Science.
