Harm and Disorder in the Urban Space Nina Peršak, Anna Di Ronco, 2021-05-15 Bringing together an international group of authors this book addresses the important issues lying at the intersection between urban space on the one hand and incivilities and urban harm on the other Progressive urbanisation not only influences people's living conditions their well being and health but may also generate social conflict and consequently fuel disorder and crime Rooted in interdisciplinary scholarship this book considers a range of urban issues focussing specifically on their sensory emotive power and structural dimensions The visual audio and olfactory components that offend or harm are inspected including how urban social control agencies respond to violations of imposed sensory regimes Emotive dimensions examined include the consideration of people emotions and sensibilities in the perception of incivilities in the shaping of social control to deviant phenomena and their role in activating or suppressing people's resistance towards otherwise harmful everyday practices Power and structural dimensions examine the agents who decide and define what anti social and harmful is and the wider socio economic and cultural setting in which urbanites and social control agents operate Connecting with sensory and affective turns in other disciplines the book offers an original distinctive and nuanced approach to understanding the harms disorder and social control in the city An accessible and compelling read this book will appeal to those engaged with criminology sociology human geography psychology urban studies socio legal studies and all those interested in the relationship between urban space and urban harm A Change is Gonna Come Brian F. Harrison,2020 As kids we were told to avoid talking about politics in polite company However the conventional wisdom no longer applies we need to find a way to talk to each other about American politics even with those and especially those with whom we disagree While we've hashed and re hashed bitter political disagreements we have paid less attention to concrete actionable ways to better understand each other While it's true that on average public opinion doesn't change quickly it does change a prime example is how people think and feel about LGBTQ rights which saw a meteoric change over the last few decades Drawing on diverse areas of social research this book identifies and explains where conversations fail and how we can start to dig out of our opinion silos to make reasonable changes in everyday interpersonal political conversations Charting a Sustainable Future of ASEAN in Business and Social Sciences Naginder Kaur,Mahyudin Ahmad,2020-07-23 This volume showcases selected conference papers addressing the sustainable future of ASEAN from the perspectives of business and social science disciplines In addressing the 17 Sustainable Development Goals SDGs envisioned by the United Nations in the domains of environment health and well being posing potential means of reducing inequalities globally the authors target specific issues and challenges confronting the fast growing region of ASEAN and present suggestions for co operation and commitment from governments non governmental organisations NGOs and society at large in line with the ASEAN Vision 2020 Papers are selected from the 3rd International Conference on the Future of ASEAN ICoFA 2019 organised by Universiti Teknologi MARA in Malaysia whose conference theme Charting the Sustainable Future of ASEAN enables intellectual discourse on sustainability issues from business and the social sciences as well as science and technology The selection of papers is published in two volumes comprising scholarly and practical insights into sustainability in ASEAN This first volume of papers from business and social science scholars will be of interest to researchers and policymakers interested in sustainability developments in the ASEAN region Una introducción a la memoria humana desde perspectivas de la neurociencia y el aprendizaje Daniel Cantú Cervantes,Arturo Amaya Amaya,2023-11-09 Una introducción a la memoria humana desde perspectivas de la neurociencia y el aprendizaje es una invitación dirigida y pensada para investigadores en las áreas de educación psicología y neurociencia maestros en formación inicial continua y personas interesadas en el contexto de la investigación mnémica humana con el fin de ofrecer un espacio para la profundización en un esquema reflexivo sobre los procesos de la memoria humana con fines de generar un mejor entendimiento sobre aquellos aspectos relacionados con los pilares fundamentales de la memoria como son las emociones la percepción y atención la toma de decisiones la semantización mnémica las técnicas de borrado de memoria los tipos de información que almacena nuestro cerebro las etapas mnémicas fundamentales y el olvido Además de esto se presenta una recopilación de 17 estrategias recomendaciones y principios básicos para facilitar la memoria considerando sus procesos de codificación consolidación y recuperación de los recuerdos Memoir of Moses A.J. Culp,2019-11-01 Deuteronomy characterizes memory as the key to Israel's covenantal loyalty and commands its cultivation in the generations to come and the book portrays itself as the foundation for this ongoing memory program For this reason Deuteronomy is considered to be an ancient collective memory text However recent scholarship has not focused on the book as a formative agent leaving fundamental questions about the book unanswered Why does Deuteronomy see memory as important in the first place How does it seek to cultivate this memory in the people A J Culp answers these questions by exploring Deuteronomy as a formative memory text and bringing contemporary memory theory into dialogue with biblical scholarship Culp shows that Deuteronomy has tailored memory to its unique theology and purposes a fact that both illuminates puzzling aspects of the text and challenges long held views in scholarship such as those regarding aniconism

The Art and Science of Training Elaine Biech,2016-12-01 There are more similarities than differences between how artists and scientists work Both ask countless questions Both search in earnest for answers Both are dedicated to reaching the best results Not so different from today's trainers are they Elaine Biech one of the most highly regarded names in talent development has set out to identify the perfect blend of content mastery and audience insight The result is this highly informative book The Art and Science of Training presents the science for learning and development but it also emphasizes that training success lies in knowing what to do when things don't go as planned Discover how top facilitators always put learners first even when faced with exceptions to the rule the unwilling learner the uninformed supervisor the inappropriate delivery medium or the unmanageable performance challenge And learn why you must understand people not only content to ensure consistently exceptional learning experiences Science is both a body of knowledge and a process Art is the expression of creativity and imagination Where they intersect is the best way to help others learn and grow The Biological Mind Alan Jasanoff,2018-03-13 A pioneering neuroscientist argues that we are more than our brains To many the brain is the seat of personal identity and autonomy But the way we talk about the brain is often rooted more in mystical conceptions of the soul than in scientific fact This blinds us to the physical realities of mental function We ignore bodily influences on our psychology from chemicals in the blood to bacteria in the gut and overlook the ways that the environment affects our behavior via factors varying from subconscious sights and sounds to the weather As a result we alternately overestimate our capacity for free will or equate brains to inorganic machines like computers But a brain is neither a soul nor an electrical network it is a bodily organ and it cannot be separated from its surroundings Our selves aren't just inside our heads they're spread throughout our bodies and beyond Only once we come to terms with this can we grasp the true nature of our humanity
