What instrument can shuck a bucket of oysters correct typing errors fuse atoms lay a straight line for a garden bed repair detached retinas and drill holes in diamonds O The laser's specifically biomedical uses cover a similarly broad and interesting spectrum In this book I have endeavored to convey some of the fascination that the laser has long held for me It is my hope that both clinicians and researchers in the various medical and surgical specialties will find the book a useful introduction Biologists particularly molecular biologists should also find a great deal of relevant information herein This volume's distinguished contributors provide admirably lucid discussions of laser principles instrumentation and current practice in their respective specialties Safety design capabilities and costs of various lasers are also reviewed We have aimed to create a practical text that is comprehensive but not exhaustive Our emphasis on the practical rather than the esoteric is dictated not only by the short history of biomedical laser use but by the extent of the community to which this information will appeal

Paredes,Olaf Reimer,Diego F. Torres,2007-11-12 This book provides a theoretical and observational overview of the state of the art of gamma ray astrophysics and their impact and connection with the physics of cosmic rays and neutrinos With the aim of shedding new and fresh light on the problem of the nature of the gamma ray sources particularly those yet unidentified this book summarizes contributions to a workshop that continues today Sources and Scintillations Richard Strom,Peng Bo,Mark Walker,Nan Rendong,2011-06-27 The genesis of IAU Colloquium 182 Sources and scintillations refraction and scattering in radio astronomy can be traced to the desire on the one hand of Beijing Astronomical Observatory radio astronomers to organize a conference which would highlight the need for high sensitivity as a way of promoting their own project to build the world s largest telescope FAST and to a suggestion from Ron Ekers on the other During a discussion with the two SOC co chairs as they then were not in January 1999 in Epping Ron noted the success of a meeting on radio seeing in Beijing in 1989 and wondered whether the time might not be ripe to organize another conference devoted to radio propagation. This set the ball rolling and with enthusiastic input from SOC members a successful application was made to the IAU. Later the URSI also agreed to co-sponsor the meeting. From April 17-21, 2000 over 80 astronomers from a dozen countries met in Guiyang, China to discuss the latest exciting results and theoretical ideas on radio propagation through interstellar, intergalactic and interplanetary space. These proceedings include almost all 95% of the oral presentations given at the conference. In addition to the 52 talks presented during 5 days of the Colloquium, Ron Ekers gave a fine summary at the end to tie things up. There were also poster sessions where some twenty papers were displayed. Besides the scientific sessions, the LOC had organized a program for spouses and other accompanying persons.
