Educational Research and Professional Learning in Changing Times reports three dimensions of a longitudinal Australian study with the ultimate aim of improving the mathematics learning outcomes for all middle school students in preparation for the quantitative literacy requirements of the 21st century It was also hoped to improve the prospects for students with the interest to study further mathematics The project provided professional learning opportunities for teachers carried out case studies in individual schools produced well documented classroom activities in line with the aims and measured teacher and student change over three years The three main sections of the book cover the formal data collection and analysis the qualitative analysis of the case studies and some of the professional learning activities for teachers The final section reports the reflections of the authors especially in relation to the changing educational environment in which the project took place Many other countries are experiencing similar educational change The book will supplement other resources for graduate programs for pre service and in service mathematics teachers by modeling both a realistic approach to quantitative and qualitative research and a range of practical classroom activities It will also assist those providing professional learning for teachers in the field unrelated to formal research as two thirds of the content is based on classroom experiences with mathematics The Mathematics of Egypt, Mesopotamia, China, India, and Islam Victor J. Katz,Annette

Imhausen,2007-08-05 In recent decades it has become obvious that mathematics has always been a worldwide activity But this is the first book to provide a substantial collection of English translations of key mathematical texts from the five most important ancient and medieval non Western mathematical cultures and to put them into full historical and mathematical context The Mathematics of Egypt Mesopotamia China India and Islam gives English readers a firsthand understanding and appreciation of these cultures important contributions to world mathematics The five section authors Annette Imhausen Egypt Eleanor Robson Mesopotamia Joseph Dauben China Kim Plofker India and J Lennart Berggren Islam are experts in their fields Each author has selected key texts and in many cases provided new translations The authors have also written substantial section introductions that give an overview of each mathematical culture and explanatory notes that put each selection into context This authoritative commentary allows readers to understand the sometimes unfamiliar mathematics of these civilizations and the purpose and significance of each text Addressing a critical gap in the mathematics literature in English this book is an essential resource for anyone with at least an undergraduate degree in mathematics who wants to learn about non Western mathematical developments and how they helped shape and enrich world mathematics The book is also an indispensable guide for mathematics teachers who want to use non Western mathematical ideas in the classroom
